Soviets Claim Vaccine for Germ Warfare

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A California civil defense official says the Soviet Union has a vaccine against four diseases which can be sprayed by airplane to protect large populations.

Dr. Cecil O. Coggins told a medical convention Saturday the vaccine is effective protection against what Russians believe to be the main diseases in the United States secret biological warfare program.

He said the immunity would come from breathing a spray containing the germs of the diseases. He declined to tell newsmen the names of the diseases or where he got his information.

Dr. Coggins formerly was chief of U.S. chemical and biological warfare in Europe. He is now medical director of the California disaster office.

Socialite Slain At Prospector's Tunnel in Desert

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI)—An autopsy report today may shed some light on the slaying of a 21-year-old Texas socialite found at the mouth of a prospector's tunnel in the desert.

June Langdon, daughter of a Texas state judge, disappeared last Thursday. Her body was found Saturday by two men and a boy on a target practice outing.

Sheriff's Capt. Ralph Edmundson said evidence showed the Texas Christian coed had been forced to walk to the tunnel where she was shot once in the forehead and twice in the stomach. The autopsy was expected to be completed today.

She was last seen by a taxicab driver who let her off at the luxury apartment her family maintained in north central Phoenix, Edmundson said. The brown-haired Fort Worth, Tex., socialite had just arrived aboard an airliner to visit her ailing mother.

The cab driver told officers he let her off at the entrance to the apartments after he carried her baggage to the door.

The sheriff's captain speculated Miss Langdon, a former Arizona State University student may have been confused about which apartment to enter since members of her family had previously stayed in a different unit.

She was not seen again until the target shooters saw the tunnel and decided to explore it.

Her father, Jack Langdon of the Texas Second Court of Civil Appeals, and a Federal Bureau of Investigation agent arrived here Sunday.

NO SUB BASES

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Adm. George Anderson, chief of naval operations, believes the Russians have not built any submarine bases in Cuba.

But, he said some of its ports have been used for refueling and overhaul.

Fear of Typhoid Strikes at Swiss Skiing Resort

GENEVA (UPI) — The tinkling of sleigh bells does nothing to still the fear in the ski resort of Zermatt, now haunted by the threat of spreading typhoid fever.

Even the bells themselves are heard less often.

Fewer and fewer people appear on the streets each day. This is giving the village, with its smart hotels, decorated shops and festive eating houses, something of the air of a deserted Hollywood movie set.

Very few guests range the echoing corridors of large hotels which are operating with absolute-minimum staffs. The dining rooms are almost empty and guests beds go unmade until late evening.

Only at night does the village come alive, when the few undaunted skiiers dance and drink. This appears to be a forced gaiety, as the faces reading the skimpy medical bulletins become more serious each morning.

Several shops have closed "for reasons beyond our control."

At first many tourists—particularly the young — did not understand the seriousness of the situation because of the lack of restrictions on people coming into the village, which is cut off from the world by towering mountains except for one small railroad.

Local authorities appeared not to understand either, apparently confusing early typhoid fever

U.S. Will Lend $398.5 Million To Brazilians

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has agreed to lend Brazil $398.5 million to boost its economy, the Brazilian Embassy announced today.

The embassy released notes exchanged by Brazil's Finance Minister Francisco San Tiago Dantas and David Bell, director of the Agency for International Development.

The embassy announcement said the United States will provide $84 million immediately.

The announcement came one hour before San Tiago Dantas was to call on President Kennedy to close officially his 15-day mission to rally U.S. support for Brazil's three-year recovery plan.

Rancher and Two Men Convicted In Assault Case

De Gaulle Hits U.S. Investments Thruout Europe

BADEN BADEN, Germany (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle's government was expected to urge its five allies in the Common Market today to limit U.S. investment in their countries. The French were expected to get little support.

Finance ministers of the six members of the European Economic Community—France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg — are meeting for two days at this south German spa.

De Gaulle fears that American capital is buying too heavily into French industry. U.S. money is 1.5 per cent of the capital invested every year in France. But De Gaulle fears it is being concentrated in a few industries, such as automobiles.

The other five countries tend to welcome investment from America or anywhere else as a contribution toward keeping business prosperous and employment high.

Annexation Bill Without Consent Junked in Senate

DENVER (AP)—Colorado's Senate killed today, 16-17, a bill which would have allowed Denver to annex surrounded little Glendale without consent of its residents.

It was the third time the issue has come to a vote in the Senate and apparently ends chances for the bill during the present session of the legislature.

After the main bill was killed a companion measure also was voted down, 14-19.

Sen. William B. Chenoweth, R-Denver, made a futile attempt to show the bill had been laid over for one more day but he lost, 16-17.

In contrast with the bill's previous appearances, there was virtually no debate.

The chief opponent of the measure, Sen. Ranger Rogers, R-Littleton, spoke briefly, calling the bill "unfair, illegal and unnecessary."

He declared it should be discussed by the commission on local affairs which Gov. John A. Love wants to set up. The suburbs, Rogers said, will negotiate on the question.

Bali Volcano Eruption Death Toll Near 1,500

By KARSTEN PRAGER

KLUNGKUNG, Bali (AP) — Pious Balinese flocked to the white beaches here today to cleanse themselves of the sins they fear may have angered the gods of the Agung volcano, which erupted last week, killing almost 1,500 persons.

They carried small house temples and the Hindu trinity to the shore and offered sacrifices. Then they entered the South Pacific to wash away their sins.

The cleansing festival takes place every 100 years. The volcano erupted in the middle of it, increasing the fervor of devotees who believe that natural disasters will occur if they fail to purify themselves.

There were more than 300 injured and 65,000 left homeless in the disaster area. Once lush and green, it now is a vast desert of ash and mud.

The official death toll was 1,478. It is feared this will rise when buried villages are excavated.

This seaside village has become one of the most important rescue centers. Military units, police, Red Cross and government officials face a gigantic task in providing food and shelter.

They begged for air transport to evacuate the injured and homeless and were shocked when two Indonesian air force transports flew in 200 delegates to the 12th annual Pacific Area Travel Association conference for a sightseeing tour. Tours were banned around Mt. Agung.

Molten lava and ash, in addition to destroying whole villages and miles of countryside, wiped out roads and bridges. This made evacuation difficult.

Plane Wreck With Two Americans Aboard Sighted

WATSON LAKE, Yukon Territory (AP)—A Canadian pilot has reported sighting a downed plane believed to be an aircraft missing since Feb. 4 with two Americans aboard on a flight over the Yukon.

Chuck Hamilton, piloting a B.C.-Yukon Flying Services plane, said he saw two persons, one apparently a woman, near the plane on the slope of a 4,000-foot mountain about 75 miles southeast of Watson Lake, near the British Columbia border.

The missing plane, a single-engine Howard aircraft, was carrying pilot Ralph Flores of San Bruno, Calif., and his passenger, Helen Klobean, 21, of Brooklyn, N.Y., on a 600-mile flight from Whitehorse to Fort St. John, B.C.

"All indications are that it is the Howard aircraft," said Hamilton.

"Oh, my God, I'm so happy," said Flores' wife in San Bruno. "We had the feeling all along that he would be found alive."

Flores and his wife have six children, the oldest 16-year-old twin daughters.

Hamilton said the wing of the aircraft was red and he was able to make out the number "N588." Canadian air force search officials said the missing plane bore the insignia "N58856."

Hamilton said the remainder of the plane was obscured and despite a number of low passes he could not make out further details. He said a campfire was burning near the aircraft. There was a person nearby.

"I felt that it was a woman," he said. "At first I thought it might be an Indian squaw. It was hard to tell."

The pilot said he spotted a man about four miles from the crash scene.

Hamilton said he landed at Aircraft Lake, about six miles from the scene. He met two trappers there and they left for the crash scene.

The pilot described the terrain as rough and "very bad for walking." He said the land is mountainous, with many knolls and gullies.

"There's a lot of ice and snow. And some open water in the creeks. It's pretty treacherous."

John Eisenhower Quits Army; Joins Publishing Firm

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Lt. Col. John S. Eisenhower, son of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has submitted a letter of resignation from the Army and taken a position with a New York publishing firm.

He made the announcement here over the weekend.

He was graduated from the U.S. Military Academy in 1944, served in Europe in World War II, and later in Korea.

In 1958 he joined the White House staff. At the close of his father's administration, he was granted indefinite leave without pay, and became affiliated with a publishing company.

Since then he has maintained an office in his father's headquarters in Gettysburg.

It had been announced before that Eisenhower would enter the Army War College at Carlisle, Pa., later this year.

Selection to attend the Army War College normally is a step toward higher rank.

Eisenhower has had less than 19 years of service and Army authorities said he will be ineligible either for separation pay or retirement benefits which would have been his had he served for at least 20 years.

Eisenhower's announcement was made in a statement to the Gettysburg Times.

His reasons for leaving the Army were withheld, but it was implied he wished to continue the affiliation with the publishing company. He declined to identify the company pending acceptance of his resignation.

Congo Soldier Kills Stray Pedestrian

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga, the Congo (AP)—A Congolese soldier shot a white foreigner to death today because the white man didn't obey an order to get off the sidewalk fast enough to suit the soldier.

The victim was Simon Asher, 55, believed to be an Israeli. He was the father of three children.

Witnesses said a Congolese soldier on guard ordered Asher off the sidewalk as he walked past the former National Bank of Katanga, which the central Congo government has taken over. It is in the heart of Elisabethville's shopping and business center.

The white man, slightly deaf, hesitated and the soldier shot him in the back.

Another Official To Testify on Control of News

WASHINGTON (AP) — Assistant Secretary of State Robert J. Manning said today it does not serve the government's purpose "to keep the public uninformed, or have it ill-informed by an ill-informed press."

Manning, the State Department's chief public information official, made the observation in testimony prepared for a House Government Operations subcommittee investigating administration news policies.

He and his counterpart at the Pentagon—Assistant Secretary of Defense Arthur Sylvester—reply today to allegations made to the subcommittee by some news industry leaders that the government has lied to Americans in times of cold war crisis and that this has undermined the people's faith in what the government says.

Manning, a former newspaperman, said that "while the American press and the American government share identical devotion to the cause of their country and its interests, the two do not—can-

26 Per Cent Boost In Jobs by 1970 Forecast in State

DENVER (UPI)—By 1970, there will be 799,000 persons employed in the state of Colorado — a 10-year increase of 163,000, according to a research report release today.

The report, released by the Colorado department of Employment, was prepared by the Denver Research Institute of the University of Denver.

In 1960, the state's employment figure was 636,000. The forecast is for a 26 per cent increase by 1970, or nearly equal to the growth between 1950 and 1960. At the same time, the population of Colorado is expected to reach between 2 million and 2.5 million persons. The population in 1960 was 1,754,000.

Further, the report predicts that Colorado residents will receive about $6 billion dollars in personal income in 1970, compared with about $4 billion in 1960.

Striking French Miners Turn Down Proposal

PARIS (AP) — Striking French coal miners have turned down a government compromise settlement and are sticking to their original demands—an 11 per cent pay hike and shorter working week.

The government, which controls the nationalized mines, offered a raise in easy stages hitting 8 per cent by next Jan. 1.

The strike went into its 25th day today with no end in sight.

Premier Georges Pompidou conferred with Interior Minister Roger Frey, who heads French security forces; and then had a talk with President Charles de Gaulle.

"I can say only one thing," Pompidou told newsmen as he left his official residence. "I find the attitude of the unions unexplainable."

Court Overturns Conviction of Ex-NAACP Chief

WASHINGTON (AP) —The Supreme Court overturned today the contempt conviction of Theodore R. Gibson, onetime head of the Miami, Fla., branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Gibson was convicted for refusing to produce a list of association members for a hearing by a committee of the Florida Legislature. He was sentenced to six months and fined $1,200.

Justice Goldberg delivered the high court's 5-4 decision throwing out the conviction.

Justice Harlan dissented with an opinion in which Justices Stewort, Clark and White joined.

In the 1959 hearing, the Florida legislative committee was looking into possible Communist infiltration of NAACP.

An investigator for the committee named 14 persons as members of the Communist party and said they had taken part in NAACP affairs.

Gibson then was asked to take the Miami membership list to a committee hearing, refer to it, and state if any of the 14 were NAACP members. He was told he would not be required to submit the entire list in evidence, where it would be open to public inspection.

Gibson based his refusal on the Constitution's guarantee of freedom of association.

Goldberg's majority opinion for the Supreme Court said that the Florida committee did not have sufficient justification for including the Miami branch of NAACP in its investigation.

Goldberg, in a 19-page opinion, gave a lengthy summary of the evidence in the case and said it disclosed "the utter failure to demonstrate the existence of any substantial relationship between the NAACP and subversive or Communist activity."

Racial Bombing Is Reported in Birmingham, Ala.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI)—Police said two persons were injured and houses were damaged over a two-block area Sunday night by a bomb "either thrown or put" in an alley behind a row of Negro homes.

Two loads of spectators who gathered in the Negro section on the north side of town were hauled away in paddy wagons when they refused police orders to move on during the investigation that followed.

Police Commissioner Eugene Connor called his entire force back to duty immediately after the blast. It ripped the back out of one house and demolished a car parked about 15 feet from the hole left by the explosion.

The blast occurred about four miles from where a bomb damaged four Negro homes and the Violence Feared In Brazilian Meeting of Reds

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (UPI)—A week of anti-American conferences was scheduled to open today with meetings in Rio and Sao Paulo.

A "continental congress" of solidarity with Cuba starts formally Thursday with delegates expected from 78 countries—including Cuba, Russia and Communist China.

Anti-Castro Cuban refugees in Rio said they will protest the meetings with street demonstrations, raising the possibility of a violent clash.

The state governors of Rio de Janeiro and Sao Paulo, both ardent anti-Communists, warned that they will crack down on any breaches of law and order.

A U. S. embassy spokesman said Washington is "deeply concerned" about the conference after earlier indications that President Joao Goulart would halt it.

By CHARLES E. WEBB

ATLANTA (UPI)—The chief of an underground organization said Sunday he hopes to step up raids on Communist Cuba so sharply that a civil war will erupt against dictator Fidel Castro.

Antonio Veciana, founder of Alpha 66 which has merged with "the Second Front of Escambray" as a force against Castro, said he hopes the raids can be increased to at least one a week.

Such attacks by small, well-trained hit-run groups would give Cuban people a tremendous boost in morale and would let the world know that there are Cubans who will fight for liberation, he said."

The Alpha 66 group was credited with its first raid last September. Veciana said that intelligence reports from within Cuba have noted that a wave of stepped-up sabotage and unrest has followed every raid since.

Because of difficulties in getting supplies to guerrilla forces within Cuba raids will be carried out by sea from a secret base in the Caribbean, Veciana said.

Veciana said his group, which he said is growing and is gaining in popular support by Americans, has no connection with 22 organizations within Cuba which announced during the weekend that

No Tax Savings Seen in Plans Of Legislature

By GORDON G. GAUSS

DENVER (AP)—Two bills advancing in the Colorado Legislature threaten to wipe out—from the standpoint of the taxpayers—something more than a third of the savings resulting from reduction of personal income taxes.

They would raise other taxes almost $3 million.

The state wouldn't get the revenue from the levies to relieve the squeeze on its general fund and they wouldn't be collected from identically the same group of persons who got income tax reduction.

One of the bills—passed by the Senate and awaiting action by the House of Representatives—would restore a fee of $1.50 on each motor vehicle license. The fee expired at the end of last year and was not reenacted by the lawmakers in 1962. Since almost a million motor vehicles in the state would pay the fee this raises the total collections from taxpayers about $1.5 million. The money goes to cities and counties.

The other bill slid through the House last week and is awaiting Senate action. It would allow school boards in Denver and Jefferson County to tack an extra mill onto their property tax levies for pay-as-you-go construction. On the basis of 1962 assessments, this would mean an increase of about $1,350,000 in taxes collected.

At present, all school boards can levy a tax of one mill on property for pay-as-you-go construction but the bill, by Rep. Palmer Burch, R-Denver, would allow Denver and Jefferson County to hike this to two mills. Burch calls it good business, saying it forestalls necessity for paying interest.

Also, there is talk—but so far only talk—that the state may have to renew its special tax levy on

'Red Herring' Tactics Charged by Mrs. Huffman

The president of the League of Women Voters, Mrs. Max Huffman, charged today that Mayor William C. Henderson and other Colorado Springs businessmen are dragging a "red herring" into the Code of Ethics controversy to divert attention from the real issue.

"The issue in the April 2 election is a Code of Ethics for Colorado Springs and nothing else. We cannot alow red herrings to take our attention off of the real issue," Mrs. Huffman said today.

"Mayor Henderson continues to ask for specific examples of misconduct in office. He knows as well as we do that laws are not retroactive and that it does not make any difference what has happened or not happened in the past.

"The only time it is important is the future. Colorado Springs is the fastest-growing city in our state and one of the fastest-growing in the nation. We know that as cities grow, the opportunities for graft and for conflicts of interest increase. Our only desire is to keep our city clean.

Mayor Henderson has not answered the question, "What can a board or commission member do under the charter that he cannot do under the Code of Ethics?"

"He has admitted publicly that Section 141 of our charter has not been enforced and that the

Another Delay Seen for New York Papers

NEW YORK (AP) — Striking printers have ratified a new contract with New York's eight closed daily newspapers. But the last of four striking unions, the photoengravers, continued to hold out today for a better work pact, delaying an immediate resumption of publication.

As things stood today, the 108th day of the newspaper shutdown:

—Photoengravers were to meet again with publishers to try to come to terms on an agreement that would remove the last stumbling block in the way of publication.

—Even if photoengraver union negotiators reached contract accord today, indications were that the eight major dailies couldn't get back on the streets until time to print Tuesday editions, or more likely Wednesday's.

—The other nine newspaper unions continued to refuse to cross the photoengravers' picket lines at four struck dailies. The other five major papers closed voluntarily when the printers began the strike against the four dailies last Dec. 8.

—Striking printers have ratified by a 779-vote majority the same settlement they rejected by 64 votes a week earlier. Their new contract gives them a $12.63 package over two years—a $6.51 increase in wages and fringe bene-

Student Office Blaze Blamed On Race Issue

GREENWOOD, Miss. (AP) — Fire damaged the Greenwood office of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee late Sunday night. A committee official charged the fire was set in retaliation for the voter registration drive the organization is conducting among Negroes.

Sam Block, 23, a Negro field secretary for the committee, said four Negroes spotted two white men running away from the area just before the fire was discovered. No one was in the office.

Block said all of his vote registration material, including lists of persons the organization had tried to register, were destroyed along with some office equipment.

A national executive of the organization demanded that federal troops be sent to Greenwood "to protect local citizens from shootings and arson attempts."

Asst. Fire Chief L. C. Sheppard said the fire started in the rear office of three rooms used by the committee. Sheppard said his department is investigating.

Block was convicted last month in City Court of breach of the peace in charging that several Negro establishments were burned in retaliation for the vote drive. The conviction is on appeal.

Student committee workers have reported being fired upon twice from passing vehicles in recent weeks. James Travis, 20, of Jackson, Miss., was wounded.

Negroes outnumber white residents nearly 2-1 in Leflore County, which has a population of 47,000. The Justice Department says about 475 negroes are listed as voters.

Cardboard Wall Blasted By Communist China

TOKYO (UPI)—The Communist Chinese radio scoffed today at what it described as President Kennedy's efforts to isolate Castroite Cuba, saying his "cardboard wall" could not stem the Red tide in Latin America.

A Peking broadcast quoting an editorial in the Communist organ Ta Kung said the statement issued this week by Kennedy and the presidents of Central America was "a declaration of counter-revolution."

"Cuba has become the standard-bearer of revolution in the eyes of other Latin American peoples..." the broadcast said. "U. S. actions...in Latin America have produced results dimetrically contrary to its wishes."

Another broadcast charged that Kennedy is plotting to establish U. S. rule over the nations of Central America.

The Red radio bitterly attacked Kennedy's promise of military aid to governments threatened by Communist revolt.

"Under the pretext of preventing Cuban subversive activities. . .the United States is busy training troops, police, and special agents of these (Central American) countries to establish terrorist rule over the people there," New China said.

Yemen Regime Recognized by Arab Council

CAIRO (UPI)—The Arab League Council has recognized the new regime in Yemin and approved a resolution sponsored by the United Arab Republic condemning French nuclear tests in the Sahara.

The Yemini vote was 10-1 with Saudi Arabia the lone dissenter. All Arab League members except Saudi Arabia, Jordan and Libya have recognized the Yemini republic.

The council delegate from Yemin also was invited to Saturday's session, the first meeting attended by Iraq and the UAR since they boycotted the league last year.

The council approved a request by Syria that its complaint be stricken from the records. The charges were brought by the Syrian regime deposed in a coup earlier this month.

Iraq ended its council boycott after the government of Premier Abdul Karim Kassem was overthrown Feb. 8 and Kassem executed.

The UAR walked out when Syria charged six months ago it had interfered in the nation's diplomatic affairs.

Technician Killed By Electric Shock

DENVER (UPI) — A Federal Aviation Agency technician was found electrocuted here in a substation at Stapleton Municipal Airport.

He was identified as Raymond G. Tabeling, 48, a troubleshooter for the FAA electrical equipment which operates lights at the airport.

Investigating officers said Tabeling's body was found about 10 a.m. by O.M. Chapman, a runway caretaker. Chapman said the body was lying on the floor of a small compartment, the arms folded across the chest.

Officers said heavy burns were found on Tabeling's left hand and on the right side fo his head. They theorized that he may have touched three large cables about an inch in diameter without turning off the main power into the substation, where equipment was housed which operates approach lights for Stapleton's left lane runway. The substation was on the south side of the field.

Officials said a 2,400-volt charge apparently passed through Tabeling's body. They said he apparently died instantly.

An investigation was continuing. Tabeling had recently moved to Denver from Pueblo.

Sixth-Coldest Winter Reported in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — The past winter was the sixth coldest in the records of the U.S. Weather Bureau.

The bureau here listed the only colder ones as those of 1899, 1905, 1910, 1929 and 1936. Two of those—in 1899 and 1936—were described as the coldest on record.

Average temperatures in 50 U.S. cities during December, January and February form the basis for its conclusions, the Weather Bureau said.

Capt. James Cook was killed by a native Hawaiian.

VENOUS STARS AND ARTERIAL SPIDERS

Vascular disorders come in a variety of forms. When the blood vessels of the skin are involved, the capillaries, arteries, or veins may be affected. For example, a widening or prominence of the tiny blood vessels of the skin bothers some individuals, especially when these lesions appear on the face, neck, or extremities. Different patterns are noted.

Red streaks on the nose or cheeks represent another form. The color is due to blood within the small, dilated vessels. These visible vessels may crop out after long time exposure of the skin of the face to wind or sun. The same applies to any part of the body subjected to excessive exposure to heat or X-rays. The lesions are more common among those with thin, inelastic skin and in victims of certain dermatologic conditions, including acne rosacea.

Older persons also develop bright red or purplish, slightly elevated spots varying from pinhead to pea size. The tiny mass consists of many tufts or loops of dilated capillaries. These spots are meaningless and require no treatment except for cosmetic purposes. They can be disguised with powder or removed by an electric needle.

The arterial spider is well named. It consists of a central enlargement with finger-like processes branching out like the legs of a spider or spokes of a wheel. The spider is bright red in color, pulsates, and is located usually on the face, neck, or upper chest. Some of these lesions appear suddently and fade quickly; others remain.

A somewhat similar defect is noted occasionally over the liver area as a forerunner of cirrhosis.

Venous stars are the counterpart of the arterial spider. These dilated small veins are blue in color because venous blood flows through them. They are found anywhere on the body but prefer the lower extremites. Venous stars pop out in areas where the pressure within the venous sytem is increased.

These blood vessels can be destroyed by electrodesiccation but this seldom is necessary.

There are other vascular lesions of a more serious nature, varying from congenital hemorrhagic telangiectasia to highly malignant tumors.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

STETHOSCOPING THE ABDOMEN

S. M. writes: Can a doctor detect pain in the abdomen with a stethoscope?

Reply

No, because the stomach and intestines don't sob or make sounds the physician could interpret as meaning "it hurts." On the other hand, if he presses too hard over a tender spot with the stethoscope, the individual is likely to squirm or yell loud enough to make it obvious he is in pain. furthermore, in a painful condition such as bowel obstruction, the use of a stethoscope provides useful information.

Rep. Powell Rebuffed By Racial Group

NEW YORK (UPI) —The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has rebuffed Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., who criticized national Negro organizations for permitting white persons in policy and administrative posts.

"Civil rights is everybody's business and responsibility," the NAACP said in a statement here Friday. In a Washington speech, Powell had criticized the NAACP, the Urban League and the Southern Christian Leadership Conference for dependence on whites for financial backing.

"We can not hope to succeed with whites on the policy level and in administrative posts in our national organizations," Powell said. "We must find the Uncle Toms in our midst, name them and get them out of the way."

The NAACP retorted, "Congressman Adam Clayton Powell reveals a woeful lack of understanding of the true nature of this problem. The NAACP recognizes that it is not a Negro problem, but a problem in democracy which affects the total society.

"Moreover, it is a problem created and primarily maintained by white people. Accordingly, they have an inescapable responsibility to work for a just solution..."

Pesticides Not Biggest Threat, Expert Declares

LARAMIE, Wyo. (UPI)—Robert E. Pfadt, a University of Wyoming entomologist, has taken exception to views that chemical pesticides are a national problem.

Pfadt answered the viewpoint most notably rendered by biologist-author Rachel Carson in her best-selling book, "Silent Spring," by calling chemical pesticides one of the tested means of modern scientific agriculture.

Through such tools, Pfadt argued, American agriculture has solved the threat of famine, which he said was still the foremost problem in much of the world today.

Pfadt cited the population explosion as the reason why not even the United States can be long complacent about its food supply.

Nearly two-thirds of all mankind is undernourished, he said, and food is adequate in only 30 industrialized nations where 900 million people live. But he said in 70 less-developed countries 1.9 billion people have insufficient diets.

According to recent estimates, Pfadt said, the U.S. will have 1.5 cultivated acres per person, compared with 2 acres at present. He said in 1975 the nation will need 10 per cent more wheat, 12 per cent more milk, 13 per cent more eggs, 27 per cent more fruits and vegetables, 27 per cent more lamb and 47 per cent more beef.

The only way to meet the need, Pfadt contended, would be through full production involving the use of farm chemicals and other modern farming methods.

HAYWARD RETURNS

NEW YORK (UPI) — After an absence from the stage, of almost 30 years, star Louis Hayward returned to the theater in March to play the role of King Arthur in the touring musical "Camelot." He joined the production in St. Louis. The movie star's last previous stage work was in New York with the Lunts in Noel Coward's "Point Valaine" in 1934.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) – For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain – without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all – this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) – the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

Shell Company Sees Colorado Possibility

DENVER (UPI)—A spokesman for Shell Oil Co. says his company is interested in about 50,000 acres of oil shale land on the Western Slope of Colorado.

Reports here indicated Shell officials were in Washington, D.C. trying to determine the availability of shale lands.

The company is working on a new process for separating oil from the shale, the spokesman said, but the company felt "we should not invest more millions in experimentation until we know shale lands are available to us."

Earlier Friday Interior Secretary Stewart Udall told the National Petroleum Council in Washington "a major company" had presented the shale proposal to him. He praised the "pioneering spirit" of the proposal.

BALDWIN, Mich. (UPI)—State police, 25 volunteers and a police dog combed the woods 10 miles south of here Saturday for Roger Robbins, 12, who had disappeared.

He finally came home Sunday morning at 5 a.m. When asked why he had eluded the search for seven hours he replied:

"Because it was my turn to do the dishes."

Mine, Mill, Smelter Union Chief Retires

DENVER (UPI)— Seventy-three-year-old John Clark retired here after 17 years as president of the independent International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers.

Clark's union career included work at the Great Falls, Mont., zinc refinery in the 20s, a term on the executive board of the CIO and a crucial period of attack from the Subversive Activities Control Board and prosecution under the Taft-Hartley Act.

Clark told the union delegates at their 70th anniversary convention "there is no Communist infiltration or domination in our union—and there is not now , and never has been any conspiracy in this union to break any federal law."

Teamsters President James Hoffa gave a clue to Clark's announcement earlier this week, remarking in a speech, "If you are going to retire, you will be a hard man to replace."

Pure Peat Soil Seen as Wonder For Production

By JAAKO LAVANNE

HELSINKI (UPI) — A Finnish agricultural scientist reports that use of pure peat as soil can triple farm and garden production.

Peat has been used almost everywhere in the world, in limited amounts, to mix with soil for improved cultivation.

Nearly one third of Finland is covered by peat bog, but Finnish farmers have used it mostly to build sod sheds and for heating their homes.

Now scientist Dr. Viljo Puustjaervi reports astonishing results from specially-prepared and fertilized peat as the sole base for growing vegetables and flowers.

Puustjaervi claims Finnish growers who use the peat, developed in lengthy experiments that began about the end of World War II, have set several world growing records.

Farmers have produced 75 pounds of tomatoes per square meter (11 square feet). In cucumbers, the yield has been 140 pounds per square meter.

These results are about three times the normal greenhouse yield, said Puustjaervi.

"I believe that we have also beaten the world record in carnations," he said. "The top yield is now 549 flowers per square meter in one year, starting when the first flowers come."

"It all started about the end of the war," he said. "A friend of mine made a chance remark, 'why don't you with your scientific knowledge find out what is the ideal garden soil?' "

So Puustjaervi set out to solve the problem. He learned that the less soil used, the better the growth. Pure peat gave the best results.

His experiments showed the peat had a "surface activity," or high rate of negatively charged particles. Peat has six times as many such particles as normal soil. It can more easily attract positively - charged particles of ammonium, calcium, potassium and sodium essential for good plant growth.

LOOKING AHEAD

LONDON (UPI) — Labor member of Parliament Edwin Wainwright said today he will ask the Ministry of Housing to make sure rooms in houses are not built too low for future generations, which he expects will grow taller than present-day Briton.

"In the years to come it is possible that they will be even taller still, the house should be built so that they are satisfactory for the whole of their useful life," Wainwright said.

Georgia Demo Race Fence Will Fall, Negro Says

By DON MCKEE

ATLANTA (AP) — Georgia's first Negro state senator in 92 years says the recial fence around the Democratic party in Georgia will fall under the weight of Negro ballots.

"It is my firm belief that in the very near future, Negro Democrats will be recognized by the state party," said Sen. Leroy R. Johnson, 34-year-old Atlanta attorney who got a surprisingly warm reception in the otherwise all-white legislature.

Johnson thinks his elbow-rubbing with white politicians has been nothing less than phenomenal.

"I had some misgivings about what would happen when I met with legislators from smaller counties in the southern part of the state," he said in an interview.

"But there was not one ripple of antagonism—the racial issue never was even mentioned on the Senate floor.

"One south Georgia senator came and shook hands with me a few days before the session ended. He said, 'I had not spoken to you before now because I had some misgivings about your coming over here. But I just want you to know it's been a pleasure serving with you and I respect you.' "

Johnson got the biggest surprise of his political career when he was invited to visit U.S. Sen. Herman Talmadge, former governor and once a hardboiled segregationist.

He called on Talmadge at the former governor's plantation near Lovejoy, Ga., shortly after winning his state Senate seat after reapportionment last October. Johnson is a Democrat.

"Sen. Talmadge was genuinely cordial," said Johnson. "We talked about many things."

Talmadge's move, coupled with the quiet course of moderation taken by new Gov. Carl E. Sanders, lends support to Johnson conviction that political desegregation is in the offing.

On a recent visit to Washington, Johnson talked informally with President Kennedy about Southern politics and the Georgia situation.

"There is a new look in Georgia," said Johnson, adding that he believed Sanders "has taken a forward look in this whole area of racial issues."

Johnson's committee assignments indicated the administration's attitude. He was named to the appropriations, education, health and welfare and judiciary committees—the most important in the Senate.

Johnson participated freely in committee work—he didn't miss a meeting — and spoke several times on the floor.

He said that purposely he kept his speech-making at a minimum.

"I didn't go over there trying to put on a show," he said. "I wanted to make some tangible contribution and I believe I did."

His only speech involving race was in an effort to include a condemned Negro youth under a bill raising the death penalty age minimum from 10 to 17. The Senate approved the provision, legally questionable, aimed at applying the law to Preston Cobb Jr. 17, sentenced at 15 to death in a murder case. The House deleted it.

Johnson's weekends during the 45-day legislative session were filled with speaking trips all over the country.

"Negroes believe if this can happen in Georgia, it can happen elsewhere," he said. The key, he said, is the ballot.

12-Year-Old Dodged Searchers Seven Hours

BALDWIN, Mich. (AP) — A search party of 25 volunteers and state police spent Saturday night combing the woods 10 miles south of here for Roger Robbins, 12.

Roger, son of Mrs. Ila Hilts, returned to his home near this northwestern lower Michigan community at 5 a.m. Sunday.

He explained that he had dodged the searchers for seven hours because "it was my turn to wash the dishes."

MY ANSWER
by Billy Graham

© 1963 by Chicago Tribune
N.Y. News Syndicate, Inc.

QUESTION: Although I am physically in the best of health, yet I seem to lack interest in everything. Do you think that religion has any bearing on a problem of this kind —K. S.

ANSWER: It is very possible that religion has a vital part to play. In fact, it is a possibility that the reason you seem so lacking in purpose is that until you find God's will, there is no answer. God has a plan for everyone who believes in Him. The Bible says, "For ye are His workmanship, created in Christ Jesus unto good works which God hath before ordained that we should walk in them." —(Ephesians 2:10)

Your frustration may well continue until you have found a new life through faith in Christ, but once you have trusted Him, and committed your way to Him, He will give you the answer. The Bible also says, "In all thy ways acknowledge Him and He shall direct thy paths." Your answer does not lie altogether in guidance counselling but in a relationship to God that gives direction to your whole life.

cases with victims of an influenza epidemic also raging at the time.

Many foreign visitors told this correspondent they believed the authorities tried to obscure the situation to lull tourists into a sense of false security—thus cutting the already severe financial loss to the hotel industry from which Zermatt earns its living.

Local authorities indignantly deny this charge. They say they took all precautions as soon as it became necessary.

The local medical association charged Sunday night, however, that "insufficient and inadequate" action by authorities aggravated the typhoid-fever outbreak, which has caused 2 deaths and sent more than 100 persons in the United States and Europe to bed.

Zermatt's doctors demanded an investigation by the Swiss Medical Association.

Returning vacationers carried the fever to the United States, Britain, West Germany, Holland and France. Many of those staying on have received anxious cables from relatives at home urging them to leave at once.

Racial Bombing Is Reported in Birmingham, Ala.

Bethel Baptist Church last Dec. 17.

Twelve children rehearsing a Christmas play inside the church and an infant in one of the houses were injured in that explosion, which was caused by dynamite sticks packed in lead pipe. The damaged church had been used for pro-integration activities. The bombers were not found despite rewards totaling $3,000.

Police Capt. George Walls said the blast Sunday was caused by a bomb "either thrown or put there in the alley." He said his officers were questioning several persons "who say they saw something."

Elizabeth Williams, 52, and Howard Robinson, 65, were hospitalized after the explosion but were reported in "good condition."

—All but two of the six non-striking newspaper unions have reached firm or tentative settlements. The machinists and electricians unions have announced willingness to return to work while their peace talks continue.

Publishers estimate the total loss to the economy as a result of the newspaper blackout at more than $200 million.

In Cleveland, Ohio, where the two daily newspapers have been blacked out for 116 days, a quick end to strikes against the Plain Dealer and the Press & News was not in sight. Striking printers appeared to present one of the last big blocks to settlement.

Mrs. Lucinda Tierney Dies; Rites Tuesday

Mrs. Lucinda Tierney, 2626 W. Cucharras St., died Friday at a local hospital, at the age of 79. She was the widow of A. J. Tierney, who died in February, 1952. She had been a resident of Colorado Springs since 1938, when she came here from Nebraska. She was a member of Grace Tabernacle Church.

Mrs. Tierney was born in Madison, Neb., Sept. 23, 1883. She is survived by two daughters, Miss Florence Tierney and Mrs. Evelyn Crawford, and five sons, Clarence, Harvey, Elmer, Arthur and Orval Tierney, all of Colorado Springs; another son, Leo Tierney, Sioux City, Ia.; and a brother, Walter Schmitt, Elgin, Nebr., 19 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Tuesday at Grace Tabernacle Church. The Rev. Herbert Weaver will officiate. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery. The Blunt Mortuary has charge of arrangements.

Woodland Park Girl Wins First In Speech Finals

Miss Sandy Osborne, junior at Woodland Park High School, won first place Friday in the original oratory section of Division II in the Colorado State Speech League finals held in Boulder.

Sandy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Osborne, won the gavel for the Woodland Park team, with an oration she composed concerning the Peace Corps titled "The Silent Generation."

Ron Hinkle, a senior student and member of the speech team won an excellent rating for his delivery of "The Highwayman," by Alfred Noyes.

Other Woodland Park students participating in the state meet were Sandy Garver, Lynne Hathaway, Monty Nichols, Donna Hermann and Ann Fliescher. Dale Huffman is coach foor the school's speech team.

Division II is made up of schools with 350 or less student enrollment.

Youngsters Admit Breaking Car Window

A group of youngsters, all under 7 years old, told police Sunday that they were responsible for breaking the side window of a car owned by Richard Padella, 328 W. Vermijo St.

However, the youngsters said they had nothing to do with breaking the windshield of the car Saturday.

Padella told police that he discovered the windshield on his car was broken about 5:30 p.m. Saturday. At 5:30 p.m. Sunday, he found the side window broken.

The children said they were throwing rocks at the time. Damage totaled $84.

JFK Orders Secrecy on Exile PT Boat Seizure

By ROBERT S. ALLEN AND PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON. — (Special) — The Kennedy administration's irate crackdown on Cuban refugee commando raids against the Communist Castro regime is producing embarrassing results.

One such incident — hurriedly suppressed by the White House — involved the recapture by the Coast Guard of one of the three PT boats used in Florida in the filming of the movie about the President's World War II exploits in the Pacific.

The heavily-armed, high-speed patrol boat, an exact replica of the PT-109 commanded by the President, was seized by a group of Cuban exiles during the movie shooting.

But this daring exploit was short-lived.

The Coast Guard and Immigration authorities intercepted the craft as it was preparing to leave a hidden base on the Keys for a hit-and-run attack against Cuba. The boat was also to be used to transport arms and munitions to the anti-Castro underground.

President Kennedy, when notified of this affair, immediately ordered a tight secrecy clamp. He personally directed the Coast Guard to release the refugees and to see that no publicity was given the incident.

Producers of "PT-109," sensing the publicity value in this real life drama, took a different view after getting their boat back.

After a series of huddles, the movie makers bombarded the White House with pleas to lift the secrecy ban. But to no avail.

CRACKDOWN—Federal agents are under White House orders to crack down on "soldiers of fortune" who are training and selling guns to Cuban refugees for commando raids.

The Justice Department, with files on most of these Americans, is probing their activities to determine if any of them are violating the law in helping the exiles.

This undercover federal threat has caused several refugee groups to complain to the Senate Armed Services Committee. They protested that their liberation efforts are encountering more resistance from U.S. than Castro forces.

MORE NEWS MANAGEMENT—The threat of official punitive action is being added to the Defense Department's avowed policy of "managing the news."

On the personal order of Defense Secretary McNamara, certain newsmen are being investigated on their sources of dispatches strongly disapproved by the administration.

Among these reporters are the two writers of this column.

They have authoritatively learned that McNamara directed Lt. Gen. Joseph Carroll, head of the Defense Intelligence Agency, to ascertain their contacts in the Pentagon. Carroll assigned the Air Force Office of Special Investigation to make this probe.

Specifically being sought by McNamara is the basis of the story published by these reporters November 7 revealing that "Russian jets have flown high-level reconnaissance missions over southeastern United States. Originating from Cuban bases, these Soviet reconnaissance flights have ranged as far north as Georgia and as far west as Texas. They are being made by two twin-engine jets piloted by Russians."

This report was flatly denied by the Defense Department.

Two weeks later, Jim Lucas, military correspondent of the Scripps-Howard newspapers, published a similar story obtained from sources of his own.

This report also was denied.

Since then, McNamara has repeated these denials. But notwithstanding these public disavowals, he has secretly put the investigative force of the Defense Department to work in an effort to uncover where these two reporters and Lucas obtained their authoritative information.

In the past several weeks, the Pentagon has revealed that giant Soviet reconnaissance-bombers have made overflights over Alaska and U.S. carriers in the Atlantic and Pacific.

Denver Woman Injured as Car Skids Off Road

A Denver woman was injured Sunday when the car she was driving skidded off U.S. 85-87 near the Nevada Street exit ramp and rolled over.

Mrs. Catherine E. Stirling, 35, is listed in good condition today at Penrose Hospital where she is being treated for a fractured shoulder and forearm.

State patrol reports said the woman apparently lost control of her car at 12:25 p.m. The car skidded for 127 feet, struck a curb on the east side of the road, knocked down a post, shot down an embankment and rolled over on its top.

Damage to the 1953 model car was estimated at $400.

SUBJECT OF DISPUTES

Subject of disputes inherited from the French rulers of Louisiana and finally settled in 1841 was the notch-like south-western corner of the Arkansas boundary.

Motor-Vehicle Deaths in '62 All-Time High

State Patrol Chief Gilbert Carrel said today that traffic deaths in the United States in 1962 stand at an all-time high.

Figures released by the National Safety Council and American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators state that motor-vehicle deaths in 1962 climbed to a record high of 41,000. The toll was 3 per cent or about 2,900 deaths more than that of 1961.

It was the first year in history that more than 40,000 persons were killed i highway traffic accidents in the U.S. The previous record high traffic death toll was 39,961, set in 1941.

An additional one and a half million persons suffered injuries disabling beyond the day of the accident. This does not include minor injuries, which totaled millions more.

The death rate per 100 milion vehicle-miles traveled rose to 5.3 from 5.2 in 1961. Travel reached a record high, 4 per cent more than the previous year. Total mileage was 767 billion miles, up 29 billion from 1961. Vehicles and drivers also increased to record levels. There were 79 million vehicles on the highways, a gain of 4 per cent, and 91 million drivers, a rise of 2 per cent.

The patrol chief said that Colorado ended 1962 with an 8 per cent decrease in the number of traffic deaths over the previous year, although there was an increase of 48 thousand registered vehicles in the state. The Colorado death rate per 100 milion vehicle-miles traveled dropped from 5.8 in 1961 to 5.3 in 1962.

Colorado's record high traffic death toll was 492, set in 1961.

WILDCATS FALTER

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — In compiling a 16-9 basketball record in the 1962-63 season, the Kentucky Wildcats turned in their worst mark, from a percentage standpoint, in the Adolph Rupp era. The Cat's won 64 per cent compared with an average 83.5 per cent since Rupp became coach in 1930.

Today's Weather

(Reports furnished by U. S. Weather Bureau Station at Peterson Field as at 5:30 a.m. today!)

Fair weather covered most of the nation this morning.

High pressure cells over the south Atlantic coast states and over the northern and central Rockies gave clear and cool weather for the southeastern states and to the western half of the country.

In between these two systems, a broad flow of warm moist air is being pumped northward from the Gulf of Mexico across the Gulf states towards the Great Lakes and Ohio Valley.

Scattered thunderstorms have developed in this flow. At present thunderstorms are active from Arkansas into Illinois and Ohio.

Showers were reported from east Texas across the northwest portion of the Gulf states into the Ohio Valley.

Freezing rain and snow are falling over North Dakota.

In the far west, a low pressure system almost stationary 500 miles off the Oregon coast is bringing rain to coastal areas of the Pacific northwest.

Early morning temperatures were in the mild 60s over eastern Texas and the lower Mississippi Valley with 50s the rule in the Ohio Valley and the southern shores of the Great Lakes.

The 40s were recorded from northern Florida, northward into Pennsylvania and upstate New York. Temperatures in the 20s and 30s were found in New England and over northern portions of the Great Lakes region and over most of the western half of the country.

The 40s and 50s were recorded along the Pacific coast and across the southern deserts near the Mexican border.

No Tax Savings Seen in Plans Of Legislature

property to finance new construction at state colleges and institutions. This, however, doesn't appear to be in prospect this year. Present tax levies for the purpose expire in 1965.

These present levies, enacted in the mid-fifties, total 1.4 mills and bring in about $6 million yearly.

For several years the state has talked about getting out of the field of property taxes, leaving it entirely to local agencies. Re-enactment of the levies, possibly for another 10 years, would forestall this objective.

The possibility of new tax levies for construction came up during House debate on the administration bill abolishing the spillover of surplus from the state general fund into the capital construction fund. Gov. John A. Love said later he isn't actively considering the special levy plan and hopes such a tax won't be necessary.

Child Struck By Car Near Home Sunday

Sandra Lou Maez, 5, 15 W. Rio Grande St., was injured Sunday when she was struck by a car near her home.

City police said the girl, who was treated for confusions and abrasions of the face, hands and knees at Penrose Hospital and released, was attempting to cross the street when she was struck by a car.

The driver, Lorenzo E. Gallagos, 20, 725 S. Royer St., was given tickets for having an altered driver's license and for careless driving.

He told police that he was blinded by the sun and did not see the youngster until it was too late to stop.

Fire Department Answers Eight Alarms Sunday

The Colorado Springs Fire Department had eight alarms Sunday, another early this morning and still another this forenoon.

It had one hot fire to fight, a garage fire at the residence of Hans Petallas, 202 N. 24th St. Furniture, estimated at enough to fill two rooms, that was stored in the garage was destroyed and the roof and one end of the garage burned.

The alarm was received at 4:32 p.m. from a box. Engine Companies 3 and 4 and Car 14 responded and two lines of hose were laid before the firemen were able to extinguish the fire. The fire department report is that the fire was caused by spread of flames from a trash fire. The furniture that was destroyed was owned by Mrs. R. E. Silver, 2315 W. Boulder St.

The first of the Sunday fire alarms was received at 9:07 a.m. Company 6 went to Institute and Fillmore Street, where children playing with matches had set fire to some tree limbs and other trash. The firemen put out the fire. There was no damage.

At 11:15 p.m. Company 4 put out a grass fire near the home of Guillermo Cordova, 3604 E. Allen St. No damage was done.

At 1:21 p.m. Company 3 and the aerial resuscitator crew made a run to 2029 W. Cucharras St., where Shirley Lucero, age nine months, fell from a baby walker, striking her head and becoming unconscious. She had recovered consciousness when the firemen arrived and there was no occasion for them to use any equipment.

The next alarm was received at 2:06 p.m. This was a job of washing up gasoline at Royer and Fountain Streets, where a car wreck had taken place.

Company 3 at 6:43 p.m. went to the 1500 block West Colorado Avenue to put out a car fire. There was damage to the wiring, hood and other parts of the car of O. W. Powell, of Ft. Carson. Cause of the fire was reported to have been a backfiring from the carburetor.

A trash fire in a vacant lot at Bijou and 30th Streets caused a run of Company 5 at 8:17 p.m. There was no damage.

At 2:18 a.m. today a resuscitator crew was sent to 214 E. Las Vegas St., where Marie Anaya, 35, was having difficulty breathing. An inhalator was used for 20 minutes, after which the patient was taken to St. Francis Hospital in an E and E Ambulance.

At 9:32 a.m. today Company 4 and Car 14 went to 2420 E. Bijou St., where an electrical short circuit was making trouble.

Automation is Used To Fight Automation

NEW YORK (AP)—New York City plans to use automation to fight the effects of automation.

James J. McFadden, acting city labor commissioner, said Sunday night that automatic teaching machines will be used soon to train workers whose job skills have been eliminated or threatened by increasing industrial automation.

Initially the machines will be used to train 500 workers as electronic technicians, McFadden said on a taped television show.

Exile Chief Orders Raids Stepped Up for Civil War

they have declared war on Castro.

He said the declaration would be a laughing matter if the situation were not so serious.

"It's no joke when one considers how serious the situation is," he said.

Veciana said that there are perhaps 50 groups in Cuba that have as their purpose the overthrow of Castro but they are not "operational" and hence, are ineffective.

Veciana made his observations at a news conference preceding a fund-raising speech made before a group of mostly Latin Americans.

He said that no arms are being furnished by the United States but that donations of money from private citizens are helping Alpha 66 continue its raids.

Veciana said Alpha 66 chapters have been formed all over the United States of persons wanting to help in the overthrow of Castro. Such chapters are now organized at Los Angeles, Philadelphia, San Antonio, Dallas, New York, Stamford and Bridgeport, Conn., and Atlanta and other chapters are in the process of being formed at Detroit and Chicago.

He said no Americans are being accepted to work for Alpha 66 at its bases in the Caribbean or on raids. But he added that recruitment is being made from Cuban refugee groups in the United States.

POMPANO BEACH, Fla. (AP)—An American, working with anti-Castro guerrilla forces, said today that Castro Cubans have constructed an airbase in the Yucatan jungle in Mexico.

In an interview with the Pompano Beach Sun-Sentinel, the American said a plane commuted regularly to Havana, transporting different Cuban officials.

The base is about 1½ hour's flying time from Havana with conventional aircraft.

The American said civilian personnel at the airport told him the strip was constructed as an escape route for Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

He said that the strip also would provide a convenient method for moving Communist agents from Cuba into Mexico where they could leave for Latin American countries.

'Red Herring Tactics' Charged by Mrs. Huffman

enforcement provisions are not adequate. Since Mayor Henderson continues to refer to Section 132 and 141 we think they should be quoted.

"Section 132 says, 'The mayor, councilmen and police magistrate shall be the officers of the city. All other persons in the service of the city or of any commission or board thereof, are hereby declared to be employees.'

"Section 141 says, 'No officer or employee shall receive any commission, money or thing of value, or derive any profit, benefit or advantage direct or indirect for or by reason of any dealings with or service for the city by himself or by others or from or by reasons of any alterations, improvements, or repairs required by authority of the city except his lawful compensation as such officer or employee and his share of the public benefit.'

"Mayor Henderson's arguments are inconsistent. First he says the City Charter is adequate, this in spite of the fact that he helped write this Code of Ethics, and told the committee many times of the need for it.

"He has also voted for it on three occasions. In his arguments he says that Section 132 does not include board and commission members, that they cannot be employees. If board and commission members are not employees then the City Charter is not adequate because they would not be included under Section 141.

"Is this the real objection to this Code of Ethics? It says:

"The purpose of this code is to establish ethical standards of conduct for all such officials and employees by setting forth those acts or actions that are incompatible with the best interest of the city, and by directing this disclosure of such officials and employees of private, financial or other interests in matters affecting the city . . . no officer or employee of the city shall engage in any business transaction or have a financial or other interest . . . that is in conflict with the proper discharge of his official duties.'

"Why do not the mayor, the Realtors and the home builders want the board and commission members to be prohibited from having business dealings which are in conflict with the proper discharge of their official duties?

"Is this the rub in this argument?

"As to the League's purpose in sponsoring this ordinance, our one and only purpose has been good government.

"Mrs. Krouse (Mrs. Robert L. Krouse) was not a candidate for office in 1960 when the League proposed this Code of Ethics," Mrs. Huffman concluded.

Whistler's Mother Is Sent Back Home

ATLANTA (AP) — Whistler's Mother and the Penitent St. Mary Magdalene, paintings loaned to Atlanta by the French government, were displayed here for the last time Sunday.

Dr. W. B. Bryan, director of the Atlanta Art Association, said about 118,000 persons viewed the masterpieces during their five-week stay.

A curator from the Louvre in Paris is to supervise packing of the paintings for their homeward journey to France early this week.

not—always share identical concepts of their functions or of their obligations to the public."

"While one seeks to serve the public by disclosure, the other may be serving a public need—and a public desire—by protecting a national policy from failure through premature disclosure."

Manning noted that the hearing stemmed from the committee's concern about the public's right to know, and declared "the business of American foreign policy is public business. Only a fraction of State Department business—perhaps no more than 1 per cent—is not immediately or imminently public.

"The State Department is as wide-open as Yankee Stadium and the admission is free," he added.

Manning said, however, that "there are moments when the interests of a government serving the people and a press informing the people do not coincide. Between the enunciation of a policy and the actions undertaken to carry out that policy, government must sometimes make a sharp distinction. Quite properly, journalism need not and frequently does not make that distinction."

GOULET IN CONCERT

NEW YORK (UPI) — Singer Robert Goulet, who emerged this season as a top night club star after a run in the stage's "Camelot," will make his debut in the concert field with a nine-week summer tour, beginning July 9 in Pittsburgh. Broadway star Carol Lawrence and other acts will be on the concert bill.

TEGUCIGALPA CHOO-CHOO—Hartwell Morin, a technician from Colorado Springs' Alexander Film Co. prepares a sequence for an advertising film to be seen in Tegucigalpa, Honduras. The 45-year-old firm, best known for its television commercials, is now becoming the nation's number one producer of advertising films for overseas use. Films now under way will soon be seen in Aden, Puerto Rico, Dominican Republic, Antigua, Kuwait, Cambodia and Colombia.

CAPT. KARL C. RITZ

Karl Ritz Made Command Pilot At ADC

Capt. Karl C. Ritz, an Army aviator, has been assigned as a command pilot at U.S. Army Air Defense Command Headquarters.

Capt. Ritz graduated from the University of Dayton (Ohio) in 1953, and entered the Army in 1954.

He spent three years in Germany as an aviator with a 155 mm Howitzer battalion and subsequently as executive officer and battery commander of a 280 mm gun battalion.

Among his other assignments, he served as an aviator for the Military Assistance Advisory Group in Vietnam from January, 1961, to April, 1962, part of the period of unrest which continues in that country.

The captain is married and has two children. The family is living at 702 Grand Blvd., Security.

Capt. Ritz is not to be confused with Maj. Donald J. Ritz (unrelated), also a pilot assigned to ARADCOM's Aviation Section.

Low Altitude Jet Streams Are Studied

DALLAS, Texas (UPI)—Knowledge of low altitude jet streams and their effect on airline take-offs and landings is being gained from the world's tallest meteorological tower near Dallas.

The 1,521-foot tower, taller than New York's Empire State Building was built by the University of Texas and is owned by television stations WFAA and KRLD of Dallas. Its weather facilities are operated for the Air Force's Cambridge Research Laboratories.

Measurements are taken around the clock from the tower's 12 levels—from 30 to 1,420 feet—and are fed into a digital computer. Most of the temperature and other recording equipment was designed and made by Leeds & Northrop Co. of Philadelphia.

Studies from the tower so far have indicated the low altitude jet stream usually starts in the late evening and may reach speeds of 60 miles an hour by dawn.

The upper jet stream, at altitudes of 30,000 feet, was charted some time ago. It is known that a jet stream may be 1,000 miles long and 500 miles wide and that it may be encountered anywhere in the United States.

But pilots need much more information on the operation of the jet stream near the ground. Many pilots have encountered strong winds over airports and reduced their speed, only to find that the wind suddenly died a few hundred feet above the ground—creating the risk of a stall and crash.

It is also believed the low altitude jet stream may cause the sudden summer night thunderstorms so common in the midwest by suddenly lifting masses of warm, moist air into contact with colder air.

Two Persons Die in Alpine Avalanches

COURMAYEUR, Italy (AP)—Spring thaw touched off avalanches in the Italian Alps Sunday. An Austrian hiker and an Italian worker were killed.

Florian Ohnmacht, 20, a student at the University of Innsbruck, was found dead under a mass of snow on the slopes of Grand Paradiso Mountain after three hours of digging by Courmayeur police.

Six companions, trailing far behind Ohnmacht, escaped.

Two Italians working on an aqueduct were swept along by another avalanche in the Aosta Valley near the French border. One dug himself free. The other, Giuseppe Trucca, 31, was killed.

Economy Looks Better in Most Parts of Nation

Editor's Note—After a winter of discontent with the slow growth of the national economy many communities now are shaking off uncertainties and planning optimistically. Others still contend with tough problems. In this, first of a series of four article on how different sections are faring, Sam Dawson, AP Business news analyst, discusses the varied faces the economy presents this spring.

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—To take the pulse of the nation's economy today you need a thousand fingers. The averages culled from the statistics just don't fit any one community exactly nor give too clear a picture of any one region.

It's been a trying winter in some places, coming after a nationwide fright about the economy when the stock market plunged last May and June. But for all its spottiness the economy this spring looks better in most places.

Of course, where the growth has been swiftest, as in the West and Southwest, communities still can see nothing but blue skies, while in other places the tone may be more one of quiet confidence than of exuberant predictions.

Yet varied as are the regional economies, one thing they share in common. The belief that times aren't really as bad as people elsewhere may be saying, nor the future as precarious either for the nation or themselves. Crises, present or predicted, have lost much of their power to paralyze.

Problems? Scads of them. New ventures and plans? Many communities are happily deep in them. And the one which doesn't even have some planned or dreamed of is sick indeed.

To judge how people are doing—and how they feel today—look at one of the measuring sticks, department store sales. How people spend their money, and how much they spend, tells a lot.

From January 1 to March 16 the volume in the 12 Federal Reserve districts compares this way with a year ago: Boston up 5 per cent, New York up 2 per cent, Richmond up 5, Atlanta up 8, Chicago up 5, St. Louis up 3, Minneapolis up 3, Kansas City up 4, Dallas up 2, San Francisco up 6.

The two districts that lag behind a year ago—Philadelphia and Cleveland, each down 1 per cent—have been troubled by strikes. And Pennsylvania, lying between the headquarter cities of the two districts, suffers from a 9.3 per cent unemployment rate, compared with a national average of 6.1 per cent.

National and international problems hit the entire nation. But the effect often varies widely among regions.

Competition from imports is likely to be felt most in the old-time industrial areas and is most noticed along the three coasts. Textile, steel, oil, electronic centers feel it. Export limitations and competition in world markets upset agricultural sections as well as the mill towns.

Labor strife often seems most acute in the older industrial sections and more easily shrugged off in growing new ones.

Interest rates are always under debate by the money managers in Washington with an eye on the effect on the national economy and the United States' position in world financial centers. But the rates, in spite of the managing, vary a bit from section to section. Exploding economies like those of the Far West need the most investment money. To get it from the older regions, they offer the highest yields.

Easy money, or dear, can mean different things in different places. The impact of either isn't the same everywhere at all—whatever the best for the national economy may be.

Tuesday: Unemployment the number one problem.

CONDEMN SUBVERSION

WASHINGTON (UPI)—U.S. and Mexican legislators have joined in a declaration condemning armed aggression and subversive infiltration in Latin America.

The joint statement was published Sunday by a delegation of 22 U.S. senators and congressmen who returned from the third annual interparliamentary meeting with their Mexican counterparts in Guanajuato, Mexico.

Market Irregularly Higher in Fairly Active Trading

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved irregularly higher in fairly active trading early this afternoon.

Big Three motors, nonferrous metals, and selected blue chips in other sections of the list made enough gains to move the over-all average to the upside, but not by much.

An increase in volume—1.04 million shares in the first hour—continued the trend of Friday and reflected a livelier interest in the market.

Wall Streeters saw the economic background as fairly encouraging. Presidential Economic Adviser Walter Heller said it looked as if March retail sales will show a 2 per cent gain over February's record.

Warmer prospects for settlement of the prolonged New York City newspaper strike also boded well for more consistent participation in the market by the general public.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .2 at 257.8 with industrials up .2, rails up .2, utilities off .1.

Chrysler, up more than a point, was the outstanding gainer among the leading autos. Ford and General Motors added fractions. American Motors dipped slightly. Rising sales for Chrysler and Chevrolet were reported.

U.S.S. Smelting, up more than a point, continued to intrigue traders. Fractional gains were posted for Anaconda, Kennecott, Phelps Dodge, and Homestake.

Swamped with sellers following late Friday's news that Sunray DX Oil has no talks under way regarding a merger or assets sale, Sunray opened more than an hour after the start of trading and sank 2¼ to 29½ on successive blocks of 40,000 and 15,000 shares.

About 50 points was clipped off the high price of Superior Oil as profits were taken on its surge last week on hopes of a stock split now that it has decided to become a Nevada rather than a California corporation.

Lorillard, up a point, was strong among the tobaccos, others showing slight losses.

San Diego Imperial, active and up a fraction, was said by traders to be responding to interest in its stock chart behavior. Financial Federation jumped about 3. United Financial of California was up a substantial fraction. California Financial dropped slightly.

Steels were about unchanged. Some weakness showed in aerospace issues, Boeing and United Aircraft losing about a point each.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 1.76 at 679.59.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were mostly higher in moderate trading. Kaufman & Broad Building was up about a point. Among fractional gainers were Reinsurance Investment, Technicolor, Molybdenum warrants, Charter Oil, Telectro Industries, Jefferson Construction, Tri-Continental warrants and Dialight. Down fractionally were Webb & Knapp, Technical Materiel, Menasco, and Associated Oil & Gas.

Corporate bonds were generally higher with rails irregular. U.S. Government bonds were a shade lower.

Rio Grande Line Reports Increase In 1962 Earnings

Denver & Rio Grande Western railroad, according to its annual report, released this week "maintained its relatively good earnings position within the railroad industry in 1962 with net income of $9,147,697 after fixed charges and other deductions.

Per share earnings on the 6,408,463 shares of common stock outstanding at the close of the year were $1.42 compared with restated earnings of $1.37 for 1961 based on an equal number of shares. Shareholders' equity was increased $2,949,966.

Net earnings, together with non-cash items charged to expenses, provided adequate cash flow during 1962 for protection of dividend payments, additions and betterments, security purchases, and debt retirement.

Gross operating revenues for 1962 were $75,828,321, a decrease of 1.81 per cent from 1961. Operating expenses were $51,482,128, an increase of 1.42 per cent over 1961. Tax accruals for 1962 were $13,046,686, 14.08 per cent below 1961, due to application of the new depreciation guide lines and lower earnings. Tax accruals for 1962 were 17.21 per cent of gross revenues, equivalent to $2.03 per share of common stock.

Payroll in 1962 totaled $33,512,402, an increase of $887,186 or 2.72 per cent more than 1961. Health and welfare benefits during 1962 aggregated $693,029. Total of wages, health and welfare benefits, and payroll taxes was $36,813,479, which was $1,060,778 of 2.97 per cent more than 1961. This amounts to 48.55 per cent of gross revenue for 1962, or $5.74 per share of common stock.

Gross expenditures for improvements during 1962 reached $16,455,362.

STUDENTS DEMONSTRATE

ISTANBUL (UPI)—More than 3,000 students demonstrators stormed the Ankara headquarters of the opposition Justice party Sunday to protest the release from prison of former President Celal Bayar, a Justice party leader.

Six party officials, including a member of parliament, were injured in the fighting. The students stoned the headquarters and demonstrated outside the house where Bayar is staying. The ex-president was freed temporarily from a life sentence because of his health.

Our '63 truck has two (2) engines.

This year you can choose between two engines when you buy a VW Truck.

The one on the left is our standard model. (The legendary engine that made the VW famous.)

The one on the right is our new optional engine. It costs a little more, but then it's more powerful. (And it comes with bigger brakes.)

Say you generally carry a heavy load. Or say you have to do a lot of driving over steep, hilly terrain. Then, you'll probably want to take on our more powerful job.

Do you know some of the advantages in the Volkswagen power plant?

Both engines, for example, are air cooled. So they can't boil over or freeze up.

Both are short-stroke, low rpm engines. Which means less friction, longer life.

Both do about 24 miles to the gallon and hardly ever need oil between changes.

Both go in back of the VW. Where they give the drive wheels unusually firm traction.

The point is this: No matter which engine you choose, you're still getting the same old VW economy, '63 style.

Crossroads Committee Will Make Plans for Summer

At a meeting of the Summer Crossroads committee to be held at 10:45 a.m. Wednesday, at her home, 14 E. Caramillo St. Mrs. Robert H. Smith, general chairman, will call upon each committee to make known its plans for the annual entertainment of foreign students who have been attending schools in the United States.

According to Mrs. William W. Boddington, social chairman some rearrangement of the usual order of events is contemplated so that there will be a better balance of activities, to allow the visitors from many foreign lands more private small scale social gatherings so that they may learn at first hand that facet of life in the United States.

This will give them an opportunity not all foreign student enjoy during their stay at various colleges and universities.

When all the plans for the week of June 9 to 15 are final, the hospitality committee will start calling host families and making preliminary plans for hosuing the fifty guests who are expected from nearly as many countries. Committee members are Mrs. Norton A. Bain, Mrs. George T. Darby, Mrs. Harold R. Grueskin, Mrs. Gernot Heinrichsdorff, Mrs. Robert L. Krouse, Mrs. William R. Manlove, Mrs. Robert C. Price, Mrs. Fred A. Sondermann, Mrs. Henry I. Szymanski, and Mrs. Milton L. Wiggins.

Since the Crossroads program was started in Colorado Springs in 1957, those entertaining the foreign students have found it to be such a rewarding experience that the committee faces the problem, not of finding host families, but of equitably distributing the students among the families that want to invite them.

Wills, Trusts, Estates to Be Discussed at Seminar

More than 200 women will gather in the Fine Arts Center at 10 a.m. Tuesday to hear four Colorado Springs bankers conduct a seminar on "Wills, Trusts —Conservation of Estates."

It will be the third in a series of four seminars on the Fundamentals of Finance for women, sponsored by the Woman's Educational Society.

Mrs. Douglas Jardine, chairman of the WES seminar project, will preside at the seminar.

Seminar moderator will be Frank Golbey, estate planning officer at the First National Bank.

Serving on the panel with him will be Harry McWilliams, trust officer of the Colorado Springs National Bank, C. Keith Riddoch, trust officer of the First National Bank; and Carl T. Fisher, assistant trust officer of the Exchange National Bank.

Members of the Woman's Educational Society serving as hostesses for the seminar are Mrs. H. B. Abbott, Mrs. Dale Giberson, Mrs. W. E. Mueller, Mrs. Donald Hibbard, Mrs. Armin Barney and Mrs. Harry Holman.

Coffee will be served following the seminar. Pouring will be Mrs. Dickson Leavens, Mrs. Hartley Murray, Mrs. W. Lewis Abbott, and Mrs. Alfred Brown.

Furnishing flowers for the two coffee tables during the weekly seminars will be the Broadmoor Florist, March 12; ENT Officers' March 19; The Broadmoor Garden Club represented by Mrs. Stuart Dodge, March 26; and the Air Force Officers' Wives Club on April 2.

Lunchbox Fare

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

We first tested this recipe about 10 years ago; on re-testing, we find it still makes a tempting cookies.

Egg and Celery Filled Rolls
Baked Apple
Ginger Nuts Beverage

Ginger Nuts

1½ cups sifted flour
¼ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon ginger
1 teaspoon cinnamon
¼ cup sugar
½ cup butter or margarine
1/3 cup dark molasses
½ cup chopped walnuts
2 to 4 tablespoons confectioners' sugar

Sift together into a mixing bowl the flour, salt, ginger, cinnamon and sugar; with a pastry blender cut in the butter until particles are very fine. Stir in molasses and walnuts. Shape into 40 balls —they'll be a little smaller than walnuts-in-the-shell. Bake, about 1 inch apart, on ungreased cookie sheets in a moderate (350 degrees) oven until bottoms are browned—about 15 minutes. Remove to wire rack to cool slightly; roll in confectioners' sugar. Stre in tightly closed container.

Patty Jewett Golfers to Make Plans for Season

With spring one week old, members of the Patty Jewett Women's Golf Association are looking forward to another busy and companiable season on the golf course. In order to prepare for the eventful months ahead, all members and those interested in becoming members are urged to attend a meeting at the club house at 1 o'clock Thursday.

Following dessert and coffee, the first regular business meeting of the year will be held. Highlight of the afternoon will be a golf clinic conducted by club professional Art Severson, weather permitting.

Hostesses for the meeting are Mrs. J. F. Phelps, Jr. and Mrs. James Bergstrom.

Dr. Dumars Will Discuss Problems Of Handicapped

The public is invited to attend the meeting of the El Paso County Chapter for Retarded Children, Inc. at 8 p.m. Thursday, in the upstairs library of the First Congregational Church, corner of Tejon and St. Vrain Sts.

Dr. Kenneth W. Dumars will speak about his chromosome laboratory recently established in Penrose Hospital for the study of chromosomes of certain types of handicapped children and their parents.

Midland Group Will Meet with Mrs. Garcia

Mrs. Anna May Garcia, 2317 Howbert St., will be hostess to the Midland Improvement Society at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday.

The thought for the day will be given by the hostess and roll call will be answered by naming a spring flower. Timely topics will be presented by Mrs. Nettie Lewis and Mrs. Vivian Reel.

Wash and rinse hosiery immediately after a wearing in order to extend their life.

VACATIONING IN BERMUDA — Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. McColl (right), of 2 Belle Air Rd., Broadmoor, are shown relaxing in the Bermuda sunshine at Hotel Corporation of America's new hotel, The Carlton Beach, accompanied by (left) Dr. and Mrs. Harry A. McColl, Jr., of Syracuse, N.Y. The family group enjoyed sightseeing around the Islands, swimming, shopping and the gay Calypso entertainment so popular in this Colony Resort.

'Helping Hand' Project Planned By NCO Wives

Operation Helping Hand is a new activity of the Ft. Carson Noncommissioned Officers' Wives Club whose members are asking donations of houseware to make up five kits for NCO newcomers.

Mrs. Frederick Bauman, president, will give more detailed information at 636-6644, ext. 3687. Acceptable articles are silverware, dishes, linens, utensils, pots and pans.

The kits will be loaned to incoming families whose household goods have been delayed and will provide a service for emergencies.

Nominating committee members for the next wives club election are Mrs. Mary Andrews, chairman, Mrs. George Hagberg, Mrs. Jim Murphy, Mrs. Ernest Niehoff and Mrs. James T. Walker.

Favorite song titles, old and new, will set the theme for a crazy hat contest at the Carson NCO wives social meeting at 1 p.m. Thursday in the Golden Boot Club. A potluck luncheon will be served by club members.

Mrs. Isaac to Entertain Chapter BO, PEO Thursday

Chapter BO, PEO will meet with Mrs. I. A. Isaac, 1509 Culebra Place at 1:30 p.m. Thursday. Mrs. J. A. McCullough will be co-hostess.

To remedy brittle fingernails, soal them in baby oil before your next manicure.

Dinner Dance Planned By Retired Officers

Col. James A. Wilson, president of the central Colorado chapter of the Retired Officers Association announces that the spring dinner dance will be held Saturday at the Officers' Club of the U. S. Air Force Academy.

All retired officers in the area are invited to attend and may make reservations by calling the secretary, Lt. Col. Tollefson, 636-2606.

Tense Nerves Block Bowels

New laxative acts on colonic muscles...de-constipates overnight.

The muscular wall of your colon contains nerves known to medicine as Auerbach's Plexus. In regular people, these nerves tell the colon muscles to propel and expel waste from the body.

But tense nerves or emotional upset can block your normal bowel habits. Your colon muscle impulses are no longer strong enough to eliminate waste—which dries and shrinks, further aggravating the condition.

The most effective relief, many doctors say, comes from a bulking action combined with a colonic nerve stimulating action. Of all leading laxatives only a new tablet called COLONAID gives you this special combination for 3-way overnight relief.

(1) COLONAID stimulates colonic nerve network, to further activate and regularize its muscular "movement". (2) COLONAID's unique re-bulking action helps re-tone tense colon muscles. (3) COLONAID moisturizes for easy passage without pain or strain.

COLONAID even relieves chronic constipation overnight, yet it is clinically-proved gentle even for expectant mothers. Get COLONAID today. INTRODUCTORY SIZE 43c. Adv

Remarkable food helps people over 40 enjoy vibrant living

AFTER 40 your body begins to feel the years and, chances are, you lack the pep and energy you had when you were younger.

- You can't roll back the calendar, but you can help build up your energy and endurance by fortifying your diet with the vital nutrients found in Kretschmer Wheat Germ.
- Nature has stored an abundance of nutritional wealth in wheat germ, which supplies 30 elements essential to health and energy. Wheat germ gives you more natural vitamins, minerals and protein than any other single food.
- Calorie for calorie, Kretschmer Wheat Germ actually offers you more all-around nutrition than meat, eggs, milk, bread, fruits, or vegetables.
- In addition to providing an abundance of natural nutrition, Kretschmer Wheat Germ boosts your energy and endurance by acting like a spark plug to help your body use other high-energy foods more fully.
- Kretschmer Wheat Germ is the "growth" part, or germinating heart, of the wheat made into tiny toasted flakes. It can be added to cereal or fruit, used in baking and breadings, served in many interesting ways.
- Why not help build up your pep and energy by adding Kretschmer Wheat Germ to your meals? It's economical, costing only about 3c a day. You'll find Kretschmer Wheat Germ, plain or with Sugar 'n Honey, in vacuum-sealed jars in the cereal section of your food store.

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—As South you hold:
Spades, J-10-7-4-3; Hearts, 3; Diamonds, A-7-6-4; Clubs, K-Q-2.

The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
Pass	Pass	1 Spd.	Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Four spades. You should be unwilling to play for less than game. A three spade bid would be inadequate, since that is not forcing once you have passed. Partner might say, "We could not possibly have a game, partner, in view of your previous pass," and would be at liberty to drop the bidding at the part score.

Q. 2—As South you hold:
Spades, A-4; Hearts, A-9-5; Diamonds, K-10-8-2; Clubs, A-8-7-3.

The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1 Dia.	Pass	1 Hrt.	Pass
2 Hrts.	Pass	3 Hrts.	Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—We would accept partner's invitation and proceed to game by bidding either three notrump or four hearts, with a slight preference for the latter on account of the ruffing value to be found in the doubleton spade. Your hand contains 15 points in high cards alone and, since partner has bid twice, he must have better than an average hand. He may, therefore, be counted upon for 11 points and that accounts for the necessary 26 points to warrant a game commitment.

Q. 3—As South you hold:
Spades, A-J-10-4; Hearts, K-4; Diamonds, Q-5; Clubs, A-Q-J-6-2.

The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
1 Hrt.	Pass	2 Clbs.	Pass
2 Hrts.	Pass	2 Spds.	Pass
2 N T	Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—While you may have had mild aspirations when your partner opened the bidding, his subsequent calls have been anything but encouraging, and you must be content with a game contract. Bid three notrump.

Q. 4—Partner opens with one diamond, and you hold:
Spades, 7-4; Hearts, J-10-6-5; Diamonds, Q-10-8-5; Clubs, K-9-4.

What is your response?

A.—There is only one bid that gives an accurate description of your holding, and that is a raise to two diamonds. A response of one heart is completely pointless. If this hand belongs in hearts, partner will be able to bid two hearts over your bid of two diamonds should he happen to have a four card heart suit and sufficient high card values to warrant making the bid.

Q. 5—As South you hold:
Spades, Q-10-4; Hearts, 6-5; Diamonds, 7-6-3; Clubs, A-K-6-3-2.

The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South
1 Spd.	Pass	?

What action do you take?

A—Two spades. Your hand contains 10 points in support of spades, which is the top limit for a single raise. If you bid two clubs and partner rebids two spades, you may feel constrained to raise to three, which procedure is overbidding your values by a considerable margin. With this type of hand it is better to get off the spot immediately and describe your hand in one bid.

Q. 6—As South you hold:
Spades, K-10-4; Hearts, A-Q-7-2; Diamonds, Q-5; Clbs, A-J-7-5.

The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
1 Clb.	Pass	1 Hrt.	Pass
2 Hrts.	Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—This is a very strong holding, and it might well produce a slam if partner has the ideal hand. In order to learn more about it you should make a temporizing bid of three clubs for, when a major suit has been supported, the mention of some other suit must be treated as a one round force.

Q. 7—As South you hold:
Hearts, A-K-10-9-6; Diamonds, A-J-7; Clubs, A-10-5-3-2.

The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1 Hrt.	Pass	2 Clbs.	Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—A jump shift to three diamonds is our choice. If the bidding develops favorably we may even reach a grand slam. If you are playing with a partner who is not well adapted to scientific bidding, we would find acceptable a direct jump to six clubs.

Q. 8—As South you hold:
Spades, 9-7-6; Hearts, Q-7-2; Diamonds, A-K-2; Clubs, Q-8-4-2.

The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
1 Clb.	Pass	1 Dia.	Pass
2 N T	Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—The answer is arrived at on a basis of simple arithmetic. Partner has a maximum of 20 points. You have 11. The partnership therefore cannot have more than 31 points in high cards, and with this balanced hand slam is known to be out of reach. The proper bid, therefore, is three notrump.

Afternoon Bridge Club Lists Results

The Wednesday afternoon duplicate bridge club met at the Carpenter's Hall with 8½ tables playing a monthly master point game.

The club welcomed Jean Campbell as a first time player, and Mrs. Tyson and Mrs. Shewmaker who have not played in some time.

Winners North-South were as follows: first, Mrs. Myra Patterson and Mrs. H. L. Thomas; second, Mrs. M. E. Glaskin and Mrs. A. R. Falb; third, Mrs. B. J. Waidler Jr. and C. R. Allingham; fourth, Mrs. T. B. Ricker and Mrs. J. J. Richardson.

Winners East-West were: first, Mrs. C. B. Lindsey and Mrs. H. Shewmaker; second, Mrs. W. M. Godfrey and Mrs. R. H. Alderson; third, Mrs. L. E. Brice and Mrs. J. W. Hale; fourth, Mrs. Merna Wilcox and Jean Campbell.

For partners or further information call Mrs. C. R. Allingham 632-3231 or Mrs. R. H. Alderson 632-8681.

Camp Fire Leaders Make Plans for Summer Day Camp

Applications for day camp will be distributed to Camp Fire leaders 7:30 o'clock tonight at the YMCA Youth Center. Scheduled for the two weeks immediately following the close of school, June 10-14 and 17-21, day camp is open to all registered Camp Fire Girls in the Pikes Peak Area.

"This year's camp will stress the outdoor ranks," stated Mrs. Robert Severs, executive director of Camp Fire Girls, "which are Trail Seeker, Wood Gatherer, and Fire Moker."

Mrs. Severs explained that work toward these ranks includes many activities such as singing, dancing, nature study, camp crafts. The daily hours for the camp will be from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. and the site will be the youth camp in Palmer Park where last year's camp was held.

Chairman of the camp committee is Darold Holcomb. Other members include Charles C. Brown, Mrs. Robert E. Bolster, Sgt. and Mrs. Richard Hall, Milton Walker, and M. B. Wreath.

The Ki-o-wa-tan Camp Fire Girls, held a candlelight ceremonial recently at the home of Mrs. Bennett T. Bennett, group guardian.

Members received honor beads in the Seven Crafts and their Camp Fire membership pins.

Participating in the Council Fire were Mary Lou Baker, Amy Bennett, Margie Castner, Joan Duffy, Becky Keiter, Pat Nannina, Linda Sewell, Mrs. Bennett and Mrs. Harold Sewell, group sponsor. The members are fourth and fifth graders at Edison School.

Another Edison group the Busy Blue Birds, toured the Rocky Mountain Pretzel Co. recently where shown how pretzels are shaped, baked and packaged. Each received a sample package and a book on the history of pretzels.

Attending were Sherree Blair, Barbara Holcomb, Shannon Johnson, Debra Pritza, Lynn Slotto, Nancy Stucky, Karen Vandeventer and Mrs. Darold Holcomb, leader.

Camp Fire Girls, Group 49 of South Security elementary school, elected the following officers last week: Marilee Heller, president; Sandra Renck, vice president; Bea Lynn Groves, secretary and Dedra Ceow, treasurer.

A recent project of the group has been making rock jewelry. In celebration of the organization's birthday week this group displayed samples of this work as well as planters, Indian signs and symbols, as well as rocks, pine cones, boughs, plants and petrified wood. Pictures of the display were featured in the Ft. Carson Mountaineer.

Plans are now being made for a Council Fire and cook-out in May, when honor beads will be awarded. The decorations and menu will be in the Indian theme. All girls interested are invited to become members of the group next year.

Dear Abby--

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

A Tickler!

DEAR ABBY: I grew a beard for the Piedmont, Mo., Centennial in 1955. I got the prize for the longest beard in town. I also had a beautiful mustache, which measured 7½ inches long. After the celebration I shaved my face clean. Everyone told me I should have kept the mustache. My wife especially. I am starting to grow one again, but I don't know how to shape it. Is there a book of pictures showing different styles and shapes of mustaches? I'm pretty good with a straight-edge razor. Does any place still sell mustache wax?—F. W. M.

DEAR F. W. M.: Ask the best barber in town to shape your mustache the first time, then follow his line. (He'll know which style suits you best.) Mustache wax can be found in drug stores. Good luck. Your wife will be tickled, I'm sure.

DEAR ABBY: How does a girl know what to order on a date? For instance, last night, after a school dance (not formal), three of us couples went out to eat. I don't know how much money my date had and I didn't want to take a chance on embarrassing him, so I said I wasn't very hungry and all I wanted was coffee. My date ordered himself a shrimp cocktail, steak sandwich, French fries and a sundae. The other kids ordered the same. What should I have done?—THE CONSIDERATE ONE

DEAR CONSIDERATE: Before ordering you should have asked your date for a suggestion. Or, "What do 'you' feel like?" Even after having ordered coffee and everyone else had ordered extravagantly, you could have said, "I've changed my mind. I'll have the same."

DEAR ABBY: About those busy bodies in "Small Town," who thought the man with five and [illegible] children should have delayed his second marriage out of respect to his wife's recent death: Wonder if any of them ever offered to help with the kids, or brought over a hot meal, or volunteered to do a day's laundry? He was fortunate to have found someone to step in. He needs sympathy and understanding, not criticism. I, for one, wish them all the luck in the world.—VIEW FROM THE HILL

COLORADO SPRINGS
GAZETTE TELEGRAPH
Your Freedom Newspaper

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It must be consistent with the truths expressed in such great moral guides as the Golden Rule, the Ten Commandments and the Declaration of Independence.

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

The 'For' and 'Against'

In today's Open Parliament section we have a letter from Jean Nonko.

She tells us that she has cancelled her subscription, so presumably she won't get to read her letter in print nor see our response to it — which is a pity since she writes well and comes so close to being correct in many of the things she has to say.

But we make it a point of publishing every letter that is hostile to us and thus, even tho she may not get to see her name in print, it is here. But let's take up the things she says and see just where our differences, real or imagined, may be.

First of all, she says that she has tried earnestly to discover what we are fighting for and can't seem to grasp it. The reason is rather obvious. We're not fighting. In fact, we are wondering if she really has been as assiduous in reading our page as she indicates. Had she been, we suspect that she would not have drawn the conclusions she does.

As a matter of fact, this sort of complaint is not new to us. We have often noted, when someone begins to harangue against our views, that they really don't know what they are and they are merely repeating things they have HEARD OTHERS SAY, but not things they have read.

This is borne out when we ask pointedly when the last editorial appeared that they read. The customary answer is: "Oh, I have not read one of your editorials in years."

Of course, Miss Nonko may be an exception and she professes that she is, so we must believe her. But in the past several weeks we have indicated clearly that we are FOR more freedom for everyone; greater prosperity; more goods and services; higher standards of living; less interference in personal decision making; that we are in favor of education; in favor of protection; in favor of private ownership; in favor of higher morality; in favor of freedom of the press; in favor of businesses setting their own hours of work; in favor of employees selecting their own jobs at wages agreeable to themselves individually.

Since we are for these things, it follows that we are against their opposites.

This would mean that we are opposed to slavery or regulation and control exercised arbitrarily over individual human beings. We are opposed to poverty. We are opposed to privation and lack. We are opposed to having bureaus and politicians make decisions for individuals. We are opposed to illiteracy and ignorance. We are opposed to a condition in which some people may loot others or injure them. We are opposed to depriving people of their property without their individual consent. We are opposed to sin. We are opposed to those people who try to manage or regulate the news and especially opposed to those who try to stifle entirely the flow of news. We are opposed to having a government decide when businesses can operate. We are opposed to having government decide who can work when or where or what the wage is to be.

Now, it is probably quite true that we have tended to stress the negative side of problems that exist. But surely it is not too much to expect that persons will understand when you state that you are opposed to sin that you favor virtue.

Nor should it be too large a strain on normal deductive powers to conclude that if we are opposed to slavery and excessive regulation, we favor freedom and no excessive regulation.

But, in each of the above cited instances, we have come forward and taken a stand in favor of the positive, rather than simply harping on the negative. And so we cannot help but feel in these cases that Jean Nonko hasn't read our editorials. She confesses that she may have missed a few. It seems to us that she may have missed them all and is simply parroting a yarn that has often been stated in Colorado Springs, but has never been proved, to wit: "The Gazette Telegraph is against everything."

But there are other matters she brings out and we will discuss these below.

Discrimination

Things have come to a pretty pass. It is getting so that it is almost as important to select one's enemies with care as to select one's friends.

'Utopia' and Government

This is an imperfect world.

Alas, this is true.

We were reminded of the imperfections by Jean Nonko, who chides us by saying:

"My impression is that you are striving for a Utopia where laws, government, compulsory education and taxation are non-existent. If this is so, I refer you to the early chapters of the Bible, in which it tells how Adam and Eve lost our Garden of Eden, and how we may only regain it in heaven.

"In the meantime, we must live in this imperfect world as best we can; because the imperfections of our form of government, school systems, etc., are merely extensions of the imperfections of man himself. It is admirable to stand up and fight for the basic, God-given rights of man; but let us do so in a realistic manner."

We would first like to suggest to Miss Nonko that she read the book, "Utopia," by Sir Thomas More. The "Utopia" which he envisaged was an island in which every man was ruled in everything that he did. There was no want. And there was no freedom. There were no surpluses, or profits. There was no choice whatever for anyone to do what he wanted to do. The entire society was as closely regulated and controlled as any socialist order could be.

In fact, a book was written only a few years ago which suggests that Sir Thomas was actually telling the story of the Incas of Peru who lived under as complete a system of state socialism as has ever existed in the world, including Russia's.

Now, anyone who understands our point of view even fractionally, well knows that we would find such a "Utopia" completely abhorrent. So the suggestion that we seek a Utopia, if related to the nature of the book which coined the term, is decidedly wrong.

But our critic doesn't leave it there. Having demonstrated that she is not familiar with "Utopia" she goes on to suggest that we want a society in which laws, government, compulsory education and taxation are non-existent.

This, too, is in error. We have long talked of the validity of natural law and shown as best we could that man may not survive and still break natural laws. As for government, we favor self-government and self-control, the only kind of government which is not subject to political whim.

So, we favor law and government, provided the laws are not merely arbitrary devices by means of which some men seek to control other men. And we favor government, so long as it is the kind of government exercised by individuals over themselves.

As for education, we favor it so extensively that we would like to see it expanded and made more effective. And we don't think that education should be made any more compulsory than church attendance or that it should be supported financially, except voluntarily, as one would support one's favorite religious institution.

The human race has had a rather long experience with letting government compel a particular kind of church attendance and belief and the results have been deadly. We believe that when we stop to think of education in the same vein we will as readily detect that compulsion in the class room is as foreign and out of place as compulsion in Sunday School.

As for taxes, the characteristic of taxation is that it be compulsive. Remove the compulsion and you have merely a payment for goods or services which are wanted by individuals.

Today, government offers to provide many goods and services to people. We think these goods and services, for the most part, are essential. But if they are, as we contend, essential, then it follows that people will be willing to pay for them. If people are willing to pay for them there is no need for compulsion. If so, there is no need for taxation.

In this nation we have demonstrated on many thousands of occasions that people will voluntarily purchase the things they want. In fact, this is the way we have always gotten ahead. Goods, services and jobs are provided by the customers who buy what they wish to buy, thereby rewarding those who produce.

This Is Government

By GEORGE BOARDMAN, Ph.D.

Postal rates went up three days ago. The local branch of the total monopoly which is the post office has no five-cent stamps. The next nearest post office, at the county seat, has no five-cent stamps. I have already received reports of a lack of five-cent stamps from other communities and other states. The post office never fails. It is inefficiently operated by people who are too timid to dare to try to earn a living in a competitive world. It is inefficiently managed by a system incapable of efficiency. It is an absolute monopoly which prohibits competition, absolutely.

This is not government at its worst. It is simply government and nothing can be worse. There are a thousand facets to this parasitical monstrosity and a thousand evils or more, and at every touch it defiles untold millions. Let me give you an example.

During the last election campaign some of the candidates were "nice" enough to travel to this local post office to buy stamps for their campaign material going into this immediate area. By so doing, they helped to increase the cost of government, while their campaign promises were concerned with economy. The local arm of the monopoly is now a third-class post office instead of a fourth-class station. In no way did this improve service to the customers but it did increase the salary of the postmaster, the cost of post office box rent and probably other costs not readily apparent to the jaundiced eye.

This, then, is government. This is part and parcel of a government which steals from the earnings of its employers to finance and support foreign governments. This is one arm of the whole government which cannot manage its affairs with any appreciable degree of efficiency while it spends billions of confiscated tax dollars as it tries to manage the entire country and all of the people. This is a segment of the government which holds hearings on crime thruout the nation while the crime rate increases in our own capital city.

Government misprints a few thousand stamps and what happens? The government prints more of the stamps to minimize the possibility of any of the citizens who pay the bills making a profit from government's stupidity.

Government thrives on stupidity. Government grows and prospers on inefficiency. If ten bureaucrats are unable to handle the work of one man in private enterprise, government employs ten more bureaucrats. The postmaster in our ghost town works a couple of hours a day attending to the business of serving the public. The balance of the eight-hour day is spent working for government, filling out forms, making reports, filing directives and other activities designed to increase the size and cost and power of government.

The President, his Cabinet, the Congress and governmental appointees are directly and indirectly responsible for the hopeless inefficiency of government. Is it any wonder that the same system has bankrupt the wealthiest nation in the world—a country of people made wealthy through the genius of private enterprise?

To imagine that government wants to cure the ailments of government is to imagine thousands of dedicated bureaucrats miraculously transformed into self-responsible, self-respecting EARNERS overnight. The minute a government employee thinks in terms of actually earning his keep, he becomes a traitor to his class.

I can hear that ubiquitous socialist beginning to holler that I am against government. The truth is that government is against me. It steals from me for the support of foreign governments and those who refuse to earn. It confiscates my private property and places my life and the lives of my family in danger. It tries to tell me what to do, how to do it and with whom. It attempts to force its benevolent tyranny upon me and keep me in slavery while it pretends concern about "civil rights."

Good luck and good health to you, in Freedom.

Question Box

(We invite questions on economics and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)

Question No. 177: "Is the CSA (Conservative Society of America) voting index reliable?"

Answer: As with all such indices, and with various surveys, the results will reflect the topics chosen by the maker of the index or the surveying agency.

The CSA Index varies to some extent from the ACA (Americans for Constitutional Action) Index, since different criteria were selected by the two different organizations. CSA generally selected votes on bills which that organization — and most conservatives — would consider opposed to their principles. ACA selected the topics it considered to be in the realm of constitutional principles.

We would suggest that a person who is interested in making up his mind about legislators should use both the ACA and CSA indices and then also study the ADA (Americans for Democratic Action) voting record which gives the opposing view. This would give the prospective voter a pretty complete picture of the voting records in the U.S. House and Senate.

Questions are limited to general human relations questions that will improve the well-being of all mankind on this earth.

Allen-Scott Report

Lobbyists For Foreign Governments

ROBERT ALLEN

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Those secret hearings of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee are uncovering startling evidence on the operations of lobbyists for foreign governments.

Three striking instances brought to light by the investigators, headed by Chairman J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., are:

Two cases of foreign governments contributing directly to congressional campaigns and members of Congress.

Twenty-seven lobbyists or their firms failed to report to the Justice Department the names of and financial arrangements with foreign government clients.

In 72 other cases foreign lobbyists violated the Foreign Agents Registration Act by failing to make a full accounting of their fees and expenditures.

These highlights of the committee's backstage disclosures will be aired publicly in a series of open hearings scheduled to begin in a few weeks.

Of 102 foreign lobbyists now under committee subpoena, Senator Fulbright plans to question only about a dozen in public view. Pressure is mounting on him to reduce the list of witnesses being grilled behind closed doors even further.

As of the first of this year, 411 lobbyists representing 108 nations were registered with the Justice Department. Most of these lobbyists are U.S. citizens. All are under committee scrutiny.

BUYING INFLUENCE

Most glaring instance of a foreign lobbyist influencing a member of Congress involves a Washington lawyer who represents a European nation that gets from $25 million to $50 million in aid.

The Senate probers traced a $1,000 campaign contribution from this foreign government thru its lobbyist to a member of Congress from a large East Coast state.

Within a week after the legislator got this money, the Congressional Record shows he delivered a speech lauding the country and its iron-fisted ruler.

The "donation" was not listed by the lobbyist in any of his reports to the Justice Department, altho an unidentified expenditure item of $1,000 was recorded in his income tax return.

In another instance, the Senate investigators uncovered a campaign contribution of more than $1,000 from a Washington lobbyist for a small Central American government to a member of the House Appropriations Committee, which passes on the multi-billion dollar foreign aid budgets.

Under questioning, the lobbyist contended the contribution came from his own pocket, altho admitting that more than 80 per cent of his income that year was derived from one source — his foreign client.

Another high-salaried Washington attorney quizzed by the committee admitted exchanging checks of considerable amounts with a syndicated Washington writer.

He told the committee the checks were merely private loans and were not for the purpose of obtaining favorable publicity for his Latin American clients.

Justice Department officials have admitted to the committee that no effort has been made to enforce provisions of the Foreign Agents Registration Act requiring TV movies produced by foreign governments to be labeled as such. The reason given is lack of personnel.

HAVANA CALLING

"Axis Sally" and "Tokyo Rose," the Americans who served as Axis propagandists in World War II, have modern counterparts in Cuba today.

Most raucous anti-American propagandists among these U.S. turncoats, granted "political asylum" by Castro and broadcasting tirades daily from Havana, are:

Mrs. Barbara Collins, 26-year-old daughter of a New Jersey minister and former member of the "Fair Play for Cuba" Committee.

Illah Warner, former teacher and part-time radio announcer from Spearhead, South Dakota.

Robert Williams, expelled head of the Union County, N.C., branch of NAACP, and a fugitive from justice.

Of the trio, Williams is considered the most effective. His program "Radio Free Dixie" is beamed thruout the South over Radio Havana with three powerful 100,000-watt transmitters.

In recent broadcasts, Williams has urged Negroes and Cuban refugees to seek to overthrow the U.S. government. He is wanted for kidnapping by North Carolina. A federal warrant was issued on August 28, 1961, for unlawful flight to avoid persecution.

Illah Warner is heard almost nightly broadcasting in Spanish and English over radio station CNCA in Havana. Mrs. Collins appears regularly on Radio Havana to extol Castro's Communist regime.

FOREIGN FLASHES

President Kennedy's meeting with Central American presidents in Costa Rica produced no major developments regarding Cuba. To counter congressional critics, the President invited a bipartisan group of senators and House members to accompany him. . Since his return from a trip to Poland, Representative John J. Rooney, D-N.Y., chairman of the House Appropriations Committee on the State Department budget, has averaged a weekly invitation to dine at the Polish embassy — but refused them all. The influential lawmaker's policy is to be friendly toward the Polish people, but not to members of their Communist government.

CRITIC

To the Editor:

As I understand it, you would have the American public exert our rights of individual freedom by supporting only that in which we believe. While you may take exception to most of this letter, and probably won't print it, you will be pleased to know I have just exerted my rights along the lines you suggested. I just cancelled my subscription to the Gazette Telegraph.

For weeks I have tried earnestly to discern what you are fighting for, but so far I can only determine that which you are against. Perhaps I missed an editorial in which you stated a clear-cut, realistic viewpoint. My impression is that you are striving for a Utopia where laws, government, compulsory education and taxation are non-existent. If this is so, I refer you to the early chapters of the Bible, in which it tells how Adam and Eve lost our Garden of Eden and how we may only regain it in Heaven.

In the meantime, we must live in this imperfect world as best we can, because the imperfections of our form of government, school system, etc., are merely extensions of the imperfections of man himself. It is admirable to stand up and fight for the basic, God-given rights of man; but let us do so in a realistic manner.

Even tho our democracy is imperfect, we are still able to exert our individual rights more freely under this form of government than under any other form since the beginning of civilization. It's true that the imposition of the will of the majority over that of the minority restricts individual rights. But the same people do not always comprise the minority on all issues. Sometimes, we give a little, but, more often, we get a lot. We still have more freedom than is allowed when the will of the minority is imposed upon that of the majority. And, at times, we must be willing to sacrifice a little of our individual rights for the good of all so that we may all live in better harmony and prosperity. So long as we have the right to vote, we are still a government of the people, by the people, for the people. Just as it has always done in the past, the American public will quickly draw a sharp, clear line when it feels too many of the individual rights are being infringed upon. I have a lot of faith in Mr. Average John Doe. He is still a very important and powerful person, and he highly resents any inference that he's not quite bright enough to know when he's being pushed around.

And where do we learn the basic precepts of democracy and the rights of man? In schools, public and private, under compulsory education. In my opinion, compulsory education has been a prime factor in the tremendous growth of this country. Another of our God-given rights, you might say, is that everyone in this country is entitled to an education. Making education compulsory harms no one but those who would deprive another of this right. An educated people learn to think, to question, to analyze and evaluate, and cannot be led too far afield or swayed by the babblings of fanatics. It costs the average American taxpayer just a few hundred dollars a year to educate every child in the country for twelve years. It's a small price to pay for our fut[illegible] If our school systems a[illegible] quate, we really have [illegible] blame but ourselves. [illegible] ers and school boards [illegible] voice our opinions an[illegible] active interest in our [illegible] course, there's impe[illegible] it's still better than t[illegible] alternative you propose. Abolis[illegible] of a system does not ne[illegible]ily solve the problem, but more likely will compound it.

Griping about taxes is the favorite American pastime; and when someone says, "Let's stop paying taxes," the American ears perk up and want to hear more. But what Americans want to hear is how they can keep all the benefits from their tax dollar without having to pay it. So far no one has come up with a practical solution, so we keep on dreaming and paying taxes. I deplore, as do others, the waste and frequent mis-management of our tax money; but considering the complexities of self-government, it would indeed be a miracle if there were no waste. When you boil it all down, and siphon out the truth, we are really all happy to be supporting a government that bases its precepts on the rights of the individual, human dignity and free enterprise. It is our duty and responsibility to offer constructive criticism. It is wrong, malicious and un-patriotic to malign indiscriminately.

We have one more God-given right: if we don't like it here, we are free to leave anytime. Offer constructive criticism, please, but do so in a positive, not negative manner. Some of us are pretty proud of this country and of being part of it; imperfections and all.

FURNACE CONTROL

To the Editor:

In Colorado our electricity is owned by the government. Electricity is often off during storms, sometimes for hours. Furnaces controlled by thermostats are hooked up to the house current, and during storms, we often get cold, for only the house current can open the valve to let the gas through.

In Los Angeles County, California, privately owned plants furnish electricity and it is seldom off at all, and never for long periods. Thermostat-controlled furnances there are usually hooked up to the tiny current generated by the pilot light, and they operate perfectly whether there is house current or not.

Will the utilities or heat engineers explain why the furnace thermostats are operated by house current here instead of by pilot light current? We would really like to know.

IDES OF APRIL

To the Editor:

For then approaches the deadline for strict accounting to Caesar for that which Caesar says he has coming. Which brings to mind a provocative thought the germ of which was provided by something once read but only dimly recalled. The author is unknown.

Nearly two thousand years ago Jesus was handed a coin and asked an entrapping question by his enemies. On one side of that coin, Bible students seem to agree, was depicted a likeness of Caesar. As to what may have been on the reverse we hear little or nothing.

If Caesar's head was on one side of that coin, is it not logical to assume that a symbol of his power, a Roman soldier with drawn sword, may have been represented on the other?

Now within the context provided, faulty as it may possibly be, and considered in conjunction with the principles voiced in the Golden Rule and the Commandment "Thou Shalt Not Steal," both of which Jesus certainly endorsed, just what may have the Great Nazarene really meant when he confounded his enemies by replying: "Render unto Caesar what is Caesar's and unto God what is God's?"

But whatever the true answer, pity that poor Caesar and those to follow. For the Roman masses had acquired an insatiable appetite for "free" bread and circuses. Caesars from then onward had a monumental and hazardous job cut out for themselves. Gibbon's "Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire" makes for both prophetic and absorbing reading.

Europe Asserts Itself

By RUSSELL KIRK

General de Gaulle's "grand design" is only the most forthright manifestation of a general drift in western Europe away from American influence. This is not a drift toward Soviet Russia, but rather an assertion of autonomy. And in the long run, this development may be healthy for both Europe and the United States.

Nowadays the European states are suspicious of American policy. On my recent two-month travels in the Continent, I found nearly everywhere, in various political factions, uneasiness over the feebleness of American policy in some regions — particularly Cuba — and resentment over the high-handed treatment that the U.S. government has been according her European allies.

The U.N.O.'s violent assault on Katanga, backed by American planning and arms, did much to reinforce this European distrust. President Kennedy's administration, a great many Europeans told me, seems determined to ride roughshod over European interests in Africa and Asia, in order to flatter the petty nationalistic "emerging nations." At the same time, the American government intends to abandon its missile bases in Turkey and Italy, so rendering Europe wholly dependent on long-range rockets based in North America — and thus making western Europe a political satrapy of the United States. So more and more Europeans nod their heads approvingly at General de Gaulle's assertion of independence.

Britain's chance for entering the Common Market probably would have been better if President Kennedy had abstained from pushing the project upon Europe. De Gaulle and others are not favorably impressed with an American administration unable to deal with a Communist stronghold in its own backyard, and unable to balance its own budget, which nevertheless tries to tell the ancient countries of Europe how to manage their affairs.

Some of my journalistic colleagues and friends have called de Gaulle's project "folly." They are mistaken. If General de Gaulle succeeds in establishing an effective European league under French leadership — and the odds are in his favor — he will preside over an area with a population larger than that of either Russia or the United States, and with immense industrial resources. Also France maintains close ties with her former colonies in Africa, especially the Negro states. Such a league would be wholly able to maintain atomic armaments and remain equal in power to either America or the Soviets.

And what's wrong with that? With Europe able to defend herself, America might begin to take herself in hand.

GYPSY ROSE LEE GETS BRACELET IN PITTSBURGH

HOLLYWOOD — Back at my desk and still shivering at the memory of the weather during stopovers in Pittsburgh and Cleveland. I hit Pittsburgh in a 50 m. p. h. gale that darn near blew my hat off, but got something to anchor the hat down when I lunched with the gents at the Variety club and was given the first gold hat pin I ever owned. These fellows always try to please their guests. When Gypsy Rose Lee lunched with them, she got a chram for her bracelet. "Since I don't have a bracelet," she told them, "it would seem to me that one of you handsome men could give me one."

The club's barker gave his wife the job of choosing the bauble for Gyp. It was delivered next day, neatly inscribed: "Here's your damned bracelet. Leave my husband alone!"

Kaspar Monahan, of the Pittsburgh Press, was responsible for getting me to the luncheon. Hearing I'd be in town to autograph some books, he busied himself rearranging my schedule so I could take in both events; then left town for New York to see all the plays, which is more than I can say I did. I didn't have time to go inside one theater. The luncheon was fun, even tho Kap was absent. But wait'll I see him!

Was heartbroken over the tragic death of Frances McCann, whom I'd known since she made her debut with the San Francisco opera. She had finished a two-year contract in Berlin, had sung in Munich, Milan, and with the Rome Opera company, and was on her way home to prepare for a Hollywood Bowl appearance on July 11. Her oldest daughter heard the news first on radio. Frances was the mother of four children ranging in age from 4 to 17—they are here with her husband, J. Walter Rodgers.

The sister-in-law of Thomas Meighan was at the autographing party in Pittsburgh's Gimbels. She used to visit Meighan in Hollywood when he was a top star of the 20s.

They're still talking about Walter Slezak at Gimbels. He dropped by to autograph "What Time Is the Next Swan?" When sales fell off in the book department, Walter grabbed an armful of books and went thruout the store hawking them. He loves being an author; has already started another epic—a cookbook. Judging from shape, it should be a good one.

Mental Anguish Led to Surgery For Princess

TOKYO (UPI) — "Great mental anguish" caused partly by shocking magazine articles about Princess Michiko's palace life contributed to her need for an "induced miscarriage," Imperial palace officials said today.

The 28-year-old commoner-princess, who had been expecting her second baby this fall, underwent an operation in the palace hospital Thursday. Palace officials said it was necessary to "protect her health."

Michiko was reported resting comfortably in good condition with Crown Prince Akihito at her bedside. The couple has one child, Prince Hiro, a lively, husky three-year-old.

Takeshi Usami, director of the Imperial Household Agency, said the princess had been in a weakened condition because of "great mental strain" brought on partly by "shock" at magazine stories.

He said women are particularly subject to shock during the early stages of pregnancy and that prying periodicals created an "unbearable burden" for the crown princess.

He cited as "undesirable" magazine articles one which gave an imaginative description of the princess' labor pains when Prince Hiro was born, pictures taken secretly by a telscopic lens showing Michiko in a swimsuit and an article depicting her clothing and pricing each item.

Soviets Protest U.S. Ban on Sale Of Large Piping

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union has protested officially to the United States against the ban on selling large diameter piping to Russia, Moscow Radio said here.

The Soviet denied American assertions the pipes were of military and strategic importance and said the U.S. action was instigated by American oil monopolies trying to limit trade "to place their competitors in an unfavorable position."

The Soviets also said that the United States was interfering in the relations of the Soviet Union and third countries which might want to sell pipe to Russia.

Moscow Radio said the protest was delivered by First Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily Kuznetsov Friday in an oral statement to U.S. Embassy Minister Counsellor John McSweeney.

Kuznetsov said the issue had taken on "an international political character" but that national security considerations of the countries involved "play no role whatsoever."

Kuznetsov's charge of "interference in the relations of the Soviet Union and third countries apparently referred to decisions by various North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) countries, including West Germany March 18, not to export large diameter pipe to the Soviet Union.

Geological Survey Wants New Lab Built

DENVER (AP)—The U.S. Geological Survey has asked Congress for funds to build two research laboratories at the Denver Federal Center which will cost $5.7 million.

John L. Ramsey, administrative offices of the survey office here, said today that one of the laboratories, to cost an estimated $1 million, would be used for research in nuclear fields.

If Congress approves funds, this structure, covering an area of about 20,000 feet, would be ready for use in the winter of 1964, Ramsey said.

The other laboratory would be used for water resources investigation and mapping. It is still in the planning stage and Congress has been asked for $250,000 to design the building.

Ramsey said the laboratories were needed mainly to house additional equipment and to relieve present overcrowding.

Restoration of Aid For Ceylong Proposed

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP)—U.S. Ambassador Frances E. Willis favors restoration of American aid to Ceylon and the prospects are hopeful, a U.S. Embassy source said today.

Miss Willis is returning to Washington in a few days for consultations.

The United States notified Ceylon Feb. 8 a $3.8 million aid program was being halted until Ceylon appropriately compensated two American oil companies—Esso Standard Eastern Inc., and Caltex Ceylon Ltd.—for 83 gas stations nationalized last June.

The embassy source said the embassy felt Ceylon will pay compensation, but the calculation will take time because the problems are complex. The two companies valued the nationalized stations at $3.4 million.

Magic Mountain Value Placed Near Million

DENVER (AP) — An up-dated report submitted here to U.S. Bankruptcy Court showed that Magic Mountain Inc., the bankrupt amusement part near Golden, is now valued at $821,000.

The report was made by Watson A. Bowes, a Denver appraiser, during a hearing to determine if the operation should be sold free of all liens and encumbrances. An appraisal made in 1961 showed the park's value at $825,000.

Judge Benjamin C. Hilliard Jr. continued his decision for a week on disposition of the 573-acre park.

Demonstrators to Be Court-Martialed

SEOUL (UPI) —Eighty-six of the 109 persons arrested here Friday for demonstrating against South Korea's military junta government will be court-martialed on unspecified charges, police said today.

The other 23 have been released but a score of demonstrators are believed to be in custody in other Korean cities, including five arrested in Taegu today.

It was not certain immediaetly what would be done with demonstrators arrested outside Seoul.

Gen. Park Chung Hee's junta, ignoring the demands of opposition politicians, was going ahead with its plan to hold a referendum in which the people would be asked to approve its continuance in power.

Former students who led the uprising which overthrew ex-President Syngman Rhee in 1960 threatened to rebel again unless Park abandoned the referendum plan.

Political observers said, however, that it is doubtful whether the former rebels have enough influence over the present generation of university students to command much of a following.

Mediterranean World Travelogue Brilliant

By JOHN FETLER

With cascading bursts of color, a travelogue on the Western Mediterranean and Spain was presented by Gene Wiancko at the Fine Arts Center, Sunday, in the Theodore Fisher Horizons Unlimited Series. Wiancko repeats the travelogue tonight.

The film and lecture on the Western Mediterranean whets the appetite for the even more legendary Eastern Mediterranean. Perhaps Wiancko may some day have such a travelogue available. Judging from his present work, it would be highly worthwhile.

Wiancko was here once before, showing a travelogue on Yugoslavia, which was quite well done. The present one, however, is even superior to that one, not only in encompassing a great area of great interest, but also in the photography, and in the wealth of scenes.

With a fine eye, Wiancko presents beautiful views: Villages in Italy and Spain, for instance, appearing in incredibly romantic landscapes of a kind which amazingly still exist. The colors are for the most part (except in a few dark instances) sparkling especially at the end of the film where Wiancko has produced scenes on the North African beaches that are really brilliant in their impact of the onrushing waves of the sea.

To be sure, photography is an art which works through the photo lens, and thus is only a framed approximation of what the actual eye would see. And, in most cases, the film is taken as the end-product in this process, as a work of art. A travelogue, however, by its very nature, intends rather to be a window, framed by the projection screen, to give us glimpses of what we would wish to see, or what the travelogue artist has been able to capture for us, beckoning to the distances beyond.

Wiancko has managed to include a tremendous variety of scenes in the travelogue: From quiet landscapes, to the riotous festivities in Spain, although he has managed to leave the bull fight acceptably bloodless. He also shows scenes from Rome, from Spanish cities, views of the Riviera, scenes of mountains, meadows and rivers, the provincial and the modern. In a word, it was engrossing, and for those who may be planning to take a trip, serves as a glimpse into possibilities which could be enlarged on a leisurely journey thru the Mediterranean and its legends from ancient times to the present.

17 Candidates Certified to Run In City Election

City Clerk Robert E. Parker said this morning that registrations for the April 2 city election now total 11,528.

Approximately 500 persons registered during the last three days of last week.

Deadline for registering is 5 p.m. Friday. The clerk's office in City Hall will stay open until 8 p.m. Thursday to accomodate those wishing to register.

There were 15,579 voters registered for the city election in April, 1961, but only 9,979 voted. The names of the 5,600 who did not vote at that time were purged from the registration books.

Parker said that so far there have been 70 applications for absentee ballots. Applications for absentee ballots can be made until noon Saturday.

In addition to voting for five council posts from a slate of 17 candidates, voters will also cast ballots on five other issues—including two charter amendments, an initiated ordinance, repeal of a present ordinance and a new ordinance.

Parker told the City Council, meeting in adjourned session, Saturday, that petitions for the 17 candidates contained a sufficient number of qualified electors and that each candidate had filed acceptance as required by the city charter.

Council took about a minute to approve the certification so that the names of the 17 candidates will appear on the city election ballot April 2.

The 12 candidates seeking six year terms are W. H. Becker, Paul F. Davis, Aldean L. Dollar, Wilbur G. Hanes, Charles M. Jett, James K. Johnson, Betty F. Krouse, Andrew Marshall Jr., Henri Ruiz, Arthur Q. Sapp, Harry A. Scurr and Leo H. Ververs.

Certified for the one vacancy for the unexpired four year term were William R. Henderson, Larry D. Ochs and Floyd K. Roberts.

Robert W. Johnson and T. Eugene McCleary were certified for the one vacancy for the unexpired term of two years.

Academy NCO To Retire Wednesday

A military career covering nearly 40 years of active and National Guard service will close Wednesday for an Air Force Academy NCO.

M. Sgt. Charles C. Hendershott, smal arms technician, Support Division, Department of Athletics, enlisted in the New York National Guard Dec. 11, 1923 at the age of 15. He re-enlisted in the Guard in 1927 and in 1942 entered active military service.

Following basic training at Ft. McClelland, Ala., Sgt. Hendershott was stationed at Camp Beauregard, La. June 1942 to January 1943, then was transferred to Camp Claiborne, La. as an instructor.

Re-enlisting in December 1945, Sgt. Hendershott then served t Sgt. Hendershott then served at Barksdale AFB, La., Lackland AFB, and Mitchell AFB, N. Y.

After a 20-month tour at Ent AFB, Sgt. Hendershott was transferred to Hq. Northeast Air Command as commandant of the NCO Leadership School.

He joined the Academy staff Dec. 13, 1955.

Police Investigate Two Break-ins Here

City police are investigating two break-ins in the city which were reported Sunday. Nothing had been reported missing in either case.

The home of Elizabeth Daily, at 726 S. Corona St., was ransacked sometime Saturday night. Police said various items were strewn about the floor.

Entrance was gained by forcing a rear door. The break-in was discovered by a neighbor who is caring for Mrs. Daily's dog while the women is in Denver.

Police reported that someone broke out a window in the metal shop at the annex of North Junior High School. Cabinets in the shop and in the adjoining woodshop were ransacked but nothing is known to be missing.

Material Damaged At Building Site

I. A. Sauer, superintendent of Bickley Construction Co., reported to the sheriff's office Sunday that vandals had damaged materials at the construction site of the new elementary school in the 2100 block of Manitoba Drive.

Included in the damage were 31 sections of copper pipe which had been broken in small pieces. A portable toilet had been tipped over resulting in damage to the structure.

Dr. Paul Wetzig Gives Travelog To Focus Club

Dr. Paul Wetzig, a local physician who has recently traveled around the world, entertained the March meeting of the Focus Club by presenting a color slide travelog of Greece, Egypt and India.

The following pictures won prizes, "narration" being the subject of the month:

First: Betty Folwer's "Coconutty Story; second: Frances Smith's "Easter Story"; third: Rosemary Landon's "Orange Balloon." John Fowler's "Cotton Pickin' Sequence" and Marguerite Wilson's "Twine" won first and second honorable mention, respectively.

First in the monochrome division was "Life's Moments" by Helen Owen; second was "The Classroom," by Charlotte Steven; third was "Lesson in Smoking," by Forrest Hamilton. Bill Bowers won honorable mention for "Baby Series."

First prize in open black and white was given to Helen Owen's "House of Camarque," and her "Farm Wagon" won honorable mention.

Bill Bowers' "Frosty" won first prize in the open class of color slides. Rosemary Landon's "Oriental Mood" won second and Leda Varney's "The Lesson" third. First, second and third honorable mentions went to Bill Bowers' "Tension," Hilda Mullen's "El Paso Building," and Harold Wilsox's "Radiantly."

City Officials To Attend Denver Building Seminar

Four city officials plan to attend portions of the three-day annual seminar and meeting of the Colorado Chapter of the International Conference of Building Officials which starts Wednesday at the Engineers Building, 1380 S. Sante Fe Dr., Denver.

They are Perry C. Tyree, city superintendent of building; Leonard Owings and Harold Tweedy from the building department and Ralph Nice, battalion fire chief.

Building, fire and health department officials from Colorado, Wyoming, Nebraska, Kansas and New Mexico are expected to attend.

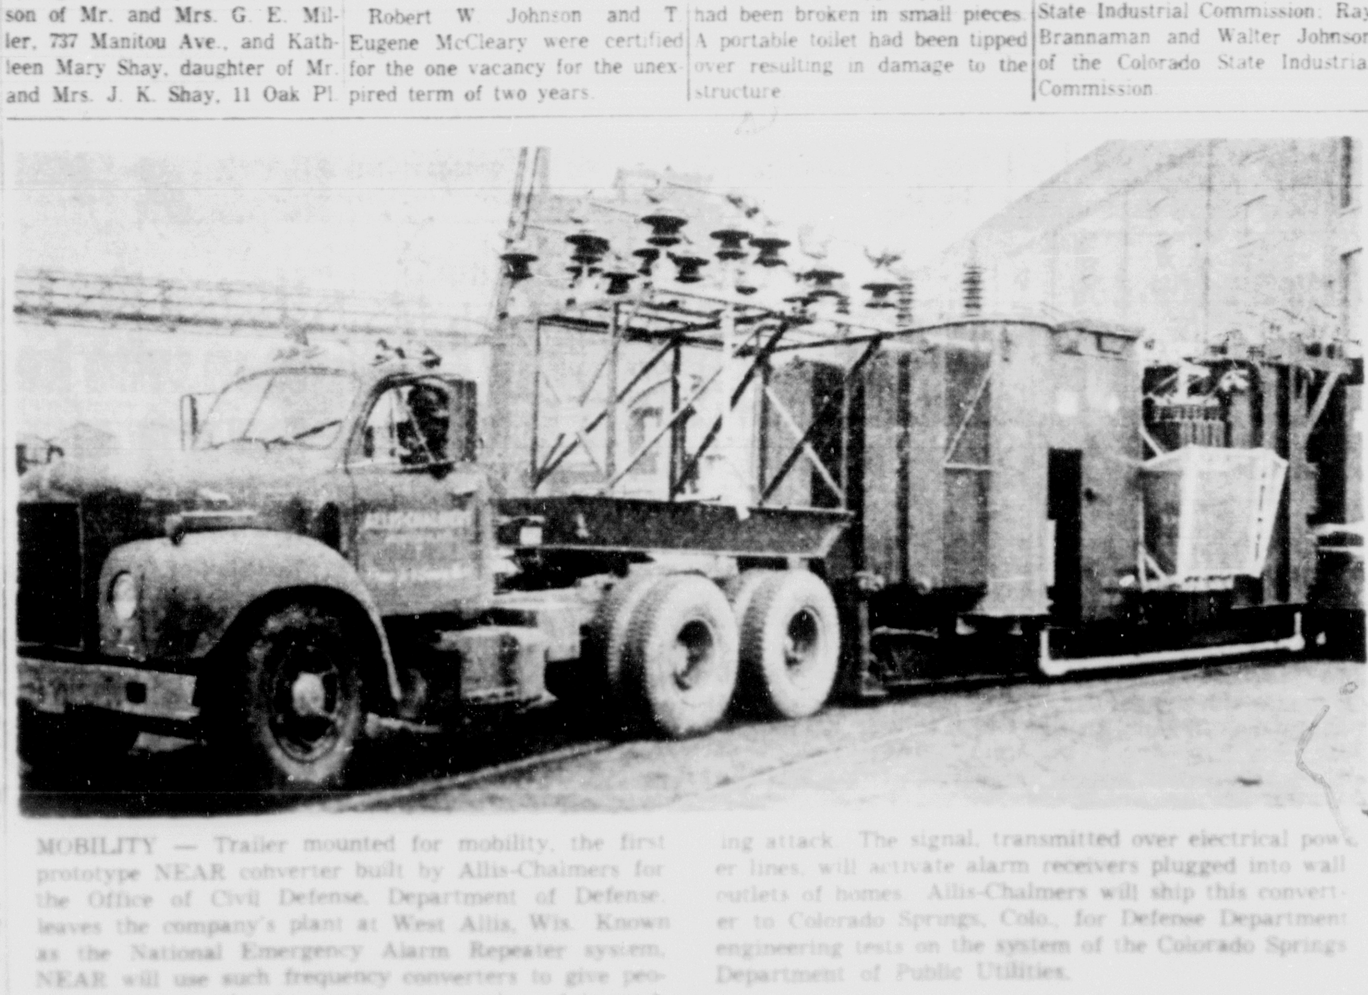
Hosts for the meeting will be Walter J. Krstich, manager of public work for Denver, and Arthur J. Becker, director of safety inspection, Colorado State Industrial Commission.

The seminar will be sponsored by the Colorado Chapter, Colorado State University and the Colorado State Board for Vocational Education.

Part of the first day of the meeting will be devoted to a panel discussion of earthquakes as they relate to the Denver area and the entire state.

The uniform building code will be discussed on both Thursday and Friday, plus other related and pertinent subjects. Highly qualified speakers and panelists have been obtained for the sessions.

Included among the honored guests will be Gov. John A. Love, Mayor R. Y. Batterton of Denver, Frank Van Portfliet, past chairman and member of the Colorado State Industrial Commission; Ray Brannaman and Walter Johnson of the Colorado State Industrial Commission.



MOBILITY — Trailer mounted for mobility, the first prototype NEAR converter built by Allis-Chalmers for the Office of Civil Defense, Department of Defense, leaves the company's plant at West Allis, Wis. Known as the National Emergency Alarm Repeater system, NEAR will use such frequency converters to give people indoors an also instantaneous warning of impending attack. The signal, transmitted over electrical power lines, will activate alarm receivers plugged into wall outlets of homes. Allis-Chalmers will ship this converter to Colorado Springs, Colo., for Defense Department engineering tests on the system of the Colorado Springs Department of Public Utilities.

DU Slates Fine Arts Week Beginning Sunday

Nine events, ranging from an art exhibit to an opera, will highlight the University of Denver Fine Arts Week, March 31-April 5. All events, except one, are open to the public free of charge.

The opening ceremony is set for 2:30 p.m. in the University's Johnson-McFarlane Hall, 1901 E. Iliff Ave. Featured will be the opening of the art exhibit by the DU department of art; a concert by the women's Glee Club, under the direction of Sunny Van Eaton, DU instructor of music, and a lecture by Vance Kirkland, chairman of the department of art and professor of art. Kirkland will speak on "Art and the Changing World."

Refreshments will be served at the opening events. The art exhibit in Johnson-McFarlane Hall and another student art show in the Pioneer Room of the Student Union, 2050 E. Evans Ave., will remain open to the public for the month of April.

Other featured events will be:

On Monday, April 1, the North Elementary School Children's Choir, under the direction of Dorothy Johnson Taylor, will give an 8 p.m. concert in Johnson-McFarlane dining hall. The choir consists of 120 children.

DU Stage Band under the direction of Frank Gagliardi, instructor of music will be featured at 8 p.m. Tuesday, April 2, in Johnson-McFarlane dining hall. The band was named fifth best college jazz band in the nation at the Collegiate Jazz Festival at Notre Dame University last spring.

The Columbia University Men's Club will present a joint concert with the University of Denver Men's Glee Club at 8 p.m. Wednesday, April 3, in the Student Union Lounge, 2050 E. Evans Ave. Tickets for the first Denver appearance of the 47 "Singing Lions" are $1.50 for adults and $1 for students and children. They may be purchased at the Student Activities Office on the University Park Campus, the Student Personnel Office in the Business Administration Building, 1445 Cleveland Place, or at the door.

Larry Tajiri, entertainment editor of the Denver Post, will discuss "Censorship of the Arts" at 1 p.m. Thursday, April 4, in the Johnson-McFarlane Lounge.

DU folksingers will perform in a special "Concert-on-the-Grass". The informal concert will begin at 2:30 p.m. on the lawn in back of Mary Reed Library on the University Park Campus.

Climaxing the week will be a performance of "The Marriage of Figaro," the major production of the opera Department of the DU Lamont School of Music. The English translation of the opera will be staged, produced and directed by Genevieve McGiffert, instructor of music. The performance is set for Friday, April 5, at Abraham Lincoln High School auditorium. The admission is free but tickets are required. They may be obtained at the Lamont School of Music, 2100 S. Josephine St.

Student groups sponsoring the Fine Arts Week are Men's Interhall Council, Women's Interhall Council, Panhellenic Council and Interfraternity Council.

English Teachers List Workshop For Air Academy

The Colorado Language Arts Society, an organization for English teachers from kindergarten thru college, will hold its second annual state workshop at the Air Force Academy Saturday from 9:30 a.m. until 3 p.m. Theme for the conference will be "Better Liaison Between Colorado English Teachers: Grades 1-14." Keynote speaker will be Gerald Reed, English consultant for the Denver Public Schools.

Discussion leaders and panelists will include: Mrs. Mildred Bebell, University of Denver—elementary teacher training; William Boast, Otero Junior College—junior college English; Mrs. Bertha Campbell, consultant for the Denver Public Schools—secondary teacher training; Mrs. Lorena Hamrick, Western State College—intermediate grades; Miss Bernice Hunn, Colorado State College—primary grades; Mrs. Sue Josties, Northeastern Junior College—junior high; Mrs. Vernice Van Duzer, North High School, Denver—senior high; Mrs. Elizabeth Spehar, Western State College; and Vernon Smith, supervisor of language arts, Jefferson County Public Schools.

Major Gerald F. Richter, head of the department of English, Air Force Academy, is in charge of arrangements at the meeting.

Weight Lifting Equipment Lifted

About $15 worth of weight lifting equipment was stolen over the weekend from the yard of T. E. Dyer, 2219 N. Prospect St., according to the sheriff's office.

Removed from the yard were weight lifting bar collars and several 40 pound weights.

NEW RECRUITER—CPO Robert F. Garton, left, who has been in charge of the local navy recruiting branch station, welcomes aboard his replacement, CPO E. B. McClellan. The new recruiter reported from a tour of duty aboard a target drone ship, which flies small radio-controlled airplanes for use in fleet gunnery training. A veteran of 20 years service, CPO McClellan resides at 301 Chamberlin Ave. in Stratmoor Hills.

DAV Planning New Contest For Annual Event in City

Friends and enthusiasts of old time fiddling may be in for a real treat if plans for a Champion of Champions Contest can be arranged, it was stated by Clifford P. Marple, commander of Zebulon Pike Chapter Numer One, Disabled American Veterans.

The DAV, Marple stated, has been having fiddling contests to crown a state champion for the past 27 or more years and it has been decided to see if plans may be arranged whereby those champions may be brought together and see just which one is the best. Consequently all former champions whose addresses are of record are being contacted and if sufficient of them are available, this "once in a lifetime" contest will be added to the 27th Annual Colorado State Fiddlers Contest as an added attraction.

Several of the former champions reside in the Pikes Peak area. Among them are R. L. "Leland" Knight; Cy Scarborough, Babe Humphrey, Charles W. Jones; Delbert Dailey, and Floyd Pribble.

As in the past, there will be the usual contest bringing together the best callers and square dance sets in the State of Colorado. The square dance division will again be divided into three separate divisions: Division I will be made up of pre-teen agers; Division II will consist of teen-agers, and Division III will be an open classification.

The Callers Contest will consist of only one division. A few phone calls came in concerning the possibility of instituting a division for junior callers.

If at any time in the future interest in this division is of sufficient magnitude, a division will be set up to cover all callers in their teens.

The contest will be held in the City Auditorium on April 19 and 26 with the finals or championship round on May 3.

Entry blanks for the various contests may be had by writing the Disabled American Veterans at POB 435, Colorado Springs, Colo.

Physical Checks For Drivers Not Worth the Cost

Traffic accidents cannot be substantially reduced by requiring drivers to take periodic physical examinations, the Rocky Mountain AAA Club reported today.

The one state that has gone into a major medical re-examination program for drivers — Pennsylvania — now reports that the safety results do not warrant the costs, according to the auto club.

A study recently made by the Joint Pennsylvania Government Commission resulted in findings that $40 million would have to be spent in an 8-year period to finish the present task of giving all drivers a physical examination. It is estimated, however, that this program could reduce the total cost of property and personal injury accidents over a 20-year period by only about $5 million.

The auto club said these findings of the Pennsylvania commission are significant in Colorado, where proposals have repeatedly been made to give all drivers periodic physical examinations.

1. Only 6 in 1,000 drivers involved in Pennsylvania traffic accidents during 1961 had apparent physical or mental defects.

2. Of the 369 drivers "rejected" under the physical re-examination program, only 3 per cent had been involved in accidents during 1960. The comparable percentage for all Pennsylvania drivers is six — twice as high. Moreover, none of the "rejected" drivers had been involved in a fatal accident in the last decade.

The commission report concluded: "The introduction of periodic physical re-examination of drivers, taken in conjunction with a drastic suspension policy, the introduction of radar and the legalization of chemical tests, has not changed the trend of fatal and personal injury accident rates."

ADC Talent Show Begins May 27

Talent contestants from Ent AFB will compete in the 29th Air Division show at Malmstrom AFB, Mont., to become eligible for the 1963 Air Defense Command talent contest scheduled for May 27-30 at Hamilton AFB, Calif.

Winners in the ADC performance will represent the command in the Air Force finals to be held at Edwards AFB, Calif., June 3-8.

Twelve categories are included in this year's contest: vocal groups, solo vocalist in popular, semi-classic or classical music; instrumental group; instrumental solo, vocal or instrumental Western country, ballad, or folk group; novelty act, dancing solo or group specialty act, and master of ceremonies.

Both male and female Air Force members may compete, but no contestant may enter more than two events. Dependents are not eligible. A winner and runner-up will be named in each category.

Touring Choir Sings Thursday At the FAC

Drake University's 65-voice choir, now on its 23rd annual spring tour, will present "A Night of Opera" at 8 p.m. Thursday at the Fine Arts Center.

The program will include scenes from Acts 2 and 4 of Gounod's "Faust," Act 2 of "Fledermaus" by Strauss, Puccini's "Sister Angelica," and will conclude with "Finale Americana."

Prof. Stanford Hulshizer, founder of the choir who has been at Drake since 1929, said the 1963 tour repertorie is "A fine sampling of opera." The entire program will be presented in costume with speical staging and lighting.

Tickets are on sale at the Colorado Springs Opera Association's box office, the Colorado Springs Music Co., the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the First Christian Church.

The youth of First Christian are sponsoring the concert.

Springs Airman Gives 32nd Pint of Blood

Airman 1.C. Everett W. Kellogg, son of Mrs. Jeannett Heney, 227 N. Walnut St., recently gave his 32nd pint of blood as a participant in the blood donor program at Alconbury RAF Station in England. He gave the first pint in 1946.

The airman is a supply specialist and was previously stationed at Ent Air Force Base. He also served in Korea.

Local Man Stabbed In Fight

A 25-year old local man was stabbed twice Sunday in a fight outside a bar. Police are searching for three men wanted in connection with the incident.

John S. Greenlee, 524 S. Prospect Ave., was treated for stab wounds of the left side of the abdomen at St. Francis Hospital.

He declined to tell police what happened. However, companions said that as Greenlee left the Silver Spur Bar one of the three suspects, who were standing nearby, shouted "something" at him.

Greenlee went over and an argument ensued. One of the men reportedly said, "I got something for him," and lunged at Greenlee.

One of Greenlee's companions began fighting with one of the other men, police reports said. When the melee broke up, a friend noticed blood on Greenlee's shirt and he was taken to the hospital.

CC Students To Compete In Debates

Four Colorado College students will compete in the nation's top debate tournament April 6-10 at Ball State Teachers College in Muncie, Ind.

Colleges and universities from across the nation will send debate teams to the tournament, sponsored by the Tau Kappa Alpha national forensics fraternity. The Colorado College chapter of the fraternity is one of the oldest.

Accompanying the two Colorado College teams as coach is Robin Rudoff of the history department at the independent college of arts and sciences.

The two teams are:

Max Power of Denver and Charles Puckett of Wilson, Okla., and Mary Jo Heller of Denver and Allen Bitters of Prairie Village, Kan.

Power, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Power of Denver, is a senior majoring in political science. He has received three of the most coveted graduate scholarships; Rhodes Scholarship for two years at Oxford University in England, Woodrow Wilson Fellowship and a Danforth Fellowship.

Pucket, a senior majoring in mathematics, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Puckett of Wilson, Okla.

Also majoring in mathematics is Bitters. A junior, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Bitters of Prairie Village.

Miss Heller a sophomore, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Heller of Denver.

Springs Team Wins Over DU In Chess Match

The Colorado Springs Chess Club tightened its hold on second place Sunday in the Colorado State Chess Association standings defeating Colorado University's chess team four and a half to one and a half in a match played here.

Winners for Colorado Springs were Lt. Richard Hevert, Col. John Romlein, Jack Farrington and Juan Reid. Capt. William Howell drew his match.

The lone winner for CU was Charles Mendoza who defeated Gabor Schnitzler on the first board.

Scoring was as follows: Gabor Schnitzler, CS, 0 — Charles Mendoza, CU, 1; Richard Hervert, CS, 1 — Malcolm Kaiser, CU, 0; Jack Farrington, CS, 1 — Dave Kortz, CU, 0; William Howell, CS, ½ — Victor Keiser, CU, ½; John Romlein, CS, 1 — Larry Brecheen, CU, 0; Juan Reid, CS, 1 — Norman Forsythe, CU, 0.

Eight Academy NCOs to Get 'Supergrades'

Eight Air Force Academy noncommissioned officers will sew on super-grade stripes April 1. Six of the men received their promotions following action by the Centralized Air Force-wide Board at Air Force headquarters.

The new chief master sergeant is SM. Sgt. Gerald B. French, DCS-Operations. Upped to senior master sergeants are the following NCOs: Harold Bossing, motor pool; Elmer D. Hewitt, printing plant; Peter D. Valdez, commander of cadets; Joseph W. Latimer, finance, and Frankie E. Wilmoth, 7625th USAF Hospital.

Marion K. Taylor, comptroller, and Harry Karolick, since transferred to Germany, were promoted to chief master sergeant, and Harold L. Wagner, DCS-Materiel, to senior master by the [illegible] board last month.

Former Champ Davey Moore Dies of Injuries

By JOSEPH A. ST. AMANT
United Press International

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Former featherweight champion Davey Moore, a classic little fighter who sometimes appeared invincible, died today of brain injuries sustained when he was knocked out by Sugar Ramos Thursday night.

It was the second time Ramos has been involved in a bout in which has opponent later died of brain injuries, according to Nat Fleischer's ring record book. Jose (Tiger) Blanco, a Cuban lightweight, died Nov. 9, 1958, of injuries received in a bout with Ramos in Havana the night before.

Moore, 29, champion for four years before he was dethroned by the Cuban Ramos in one of the most bruising battles seen here in years, took the final 10-count at 2:20 a.m. PST (5:20 a.m. EST) in White Memorial Hospital.

He was taken to the hospital when he collapsed about 40 minutes after the fight. Suffering from "massive bruises" in the brain area, he never regained consciousness.

Moore was draped helpless on the ropes when the bell ended the 10th round of the fight. His manager Willie Ketchum waved in surrender to referee George Latka and Latka declared Ramos the victor and new featherweight champion on a 10th round kayo under California rules.

Moore, a 125-pounder with a wedge-shaped torso and standing only 5 feet 3 inches, was revived in his corner and went to his dressing room under his own power. He told sports writers, "This just wasn't my night." A short time later, he complained of head pains and lapsed into a coma.

Moore died exactly one year and one day after Benny (Kid) Paret suffered the same fate when he was dethroned in a welterweight championship bout by Emile Griffith. Ironically, Griffith fought on the same card as Moore in the triple championship bout Thursday. He lost to Luis Rodriguez.

Moore's wife, Geraldine, mother of their five young children, was in the same hospital where she was admitted for shock after hours of anxious waiting in the lobby and in her husband's room. She was awakened and told of Moore's death this morning and immediately placed under sedation.

California Gov. Edmund G. Brown, an outspoken foe of the sport, requested immediate introduction of a bill which would ask the voters to outlaw boxing in the 1964 election.

"I can only conclude once again that there is only one way to prevent deaths and severe injuries in the ring and that is to abolish the so-called sport completely," the governor said.

Brown suggested the powers of the State Athletic Commission were not enough. He called for an "emergency committee" to survey the current safeguards and recommend new ones.

Moore had run up a string of 18 consecutive victories before he met his fate in the form of Ramos, a hungry and handsome 21-year old Cuban, now a resident of Mexico.

In 65 pro fights, Moore had lost only seven and had one draw. His only previous knockout was March 14, 1960 when he was kayoed in the seventh round by Carlos Hernandez at Caracas, Venezuela. Moore did not go down for the count on that occasion either —his jaw was broken by what many considered a lucky blow and the bout was halted.

Moore first drew attention in the boxing world when he competed as a member of the 1952 Olympic team at Helsinki, Finland but failed to reach the finals. His teammates included the former heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson and Eddie Sanders. Sanders later turned pro and was fatally injured in a bout at Boston.

A hard puncher and a poised boxer, Moore won the featherweight title on March 18, 1959, when he stopped Hogan (Kid) Bassey of Nigeria in 13 rounds at the Olympic Auditorium in Los Angeles.

Moore had successfully defended his title five times up until the Ramos fight.

Little Dave, a clean-living son of a clergyman, was born in Lexington, Ky., Nov. 1, 1933. He lived most of his life in Springfield, Ohio, and moved three years ago to Columbus.

Moore had no money worries. Friends said his prime purpose in fighting seemed to be aimed at the goal of achieving financial security for his family.

He had achieved that security—apparently. He owned rental property in Ohio and had thought of retiring — to become a real estate and insurance broker.

He was a little tired of globe-trotting to South America and Europe where smaller boxers are more popular than in the United States.

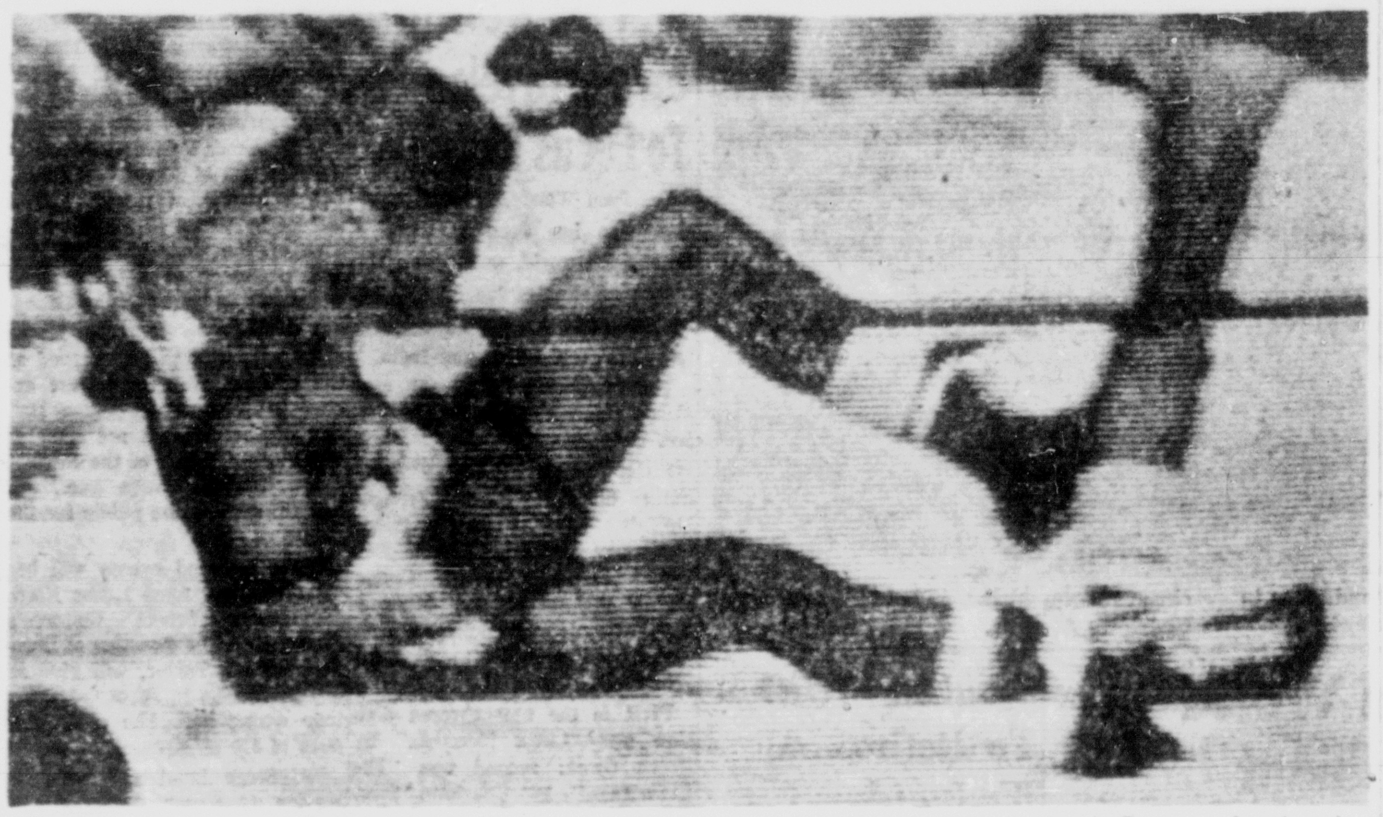
Yet he yearned for more boxing honors and said before the Ramos fight he would like to have a crack at the lightweight title held by Carlos Ortiz.

It wasn't the desire for money that kept him going — this pleasant-spoken little Negro who had to scrounge for a living from his earliest days.

He got $40,000 for the Ramos fight and probably amassed better than half a million after he turned professional in May of 1953.

Moore who wore an elegant mustache — as a kind of status symbol and good luck charm, wrote his own epitaph in his few moments of lucidity after the Ramos fight when he said:

"It just wasn't my night."



MOORE'S HEAD HITS ROPE — This scene from the videotape of the Davey Moore - Sugar Ramos Thursday night fight at Los Angeles shows the back of Moore's head banging against the lower ring rope as he was floored in the 10th and final round. Doctors who viewed the film at Los Angeles today said the rope blow probably was the principal cause of the brain-stem injury which killed Moore. (AP Wirephoto)

'Birds Host Boulder; Tribe Takes to Road

By TOM CUSHMAN
Gazette Telegraph Sports Writer

Palmer and Wasson baseball teams wind-up a short run of pre-conference contests Tuesday afternoon to lead off a full week of spring activity for local schools.

Gib Funk's Thunderbirds, winners of two straight, host a strong Boulder team at Wasson's diamond at 3 p.m. Tuesday while Palmer travels to Pueblo County for a 3:30 p.m. battle with the Hornets.

Later during the week, Thunderbird and Terror track teams make their first local appearances. In addition the majority of the Pikes Peak League schools plunge into their spring schedules and Saturday the Air Force baseball squad cracks its season in a road trip at New Mexico. Colorado College, now on spring vacation, does not open either its baseball or outdoor track seasons until April 6.

Also on the Tuesday baseball schedule is an opening contest for Widefield. The Gladiators travel to Fountain Valley to meet the Danes who split a pair with Manitou Springs last week. Wednesday, Cheyenne Mountain, the defending AA state champion, gets into the act by hosting Boulder and Manitou will be at home to the Wasson "B" team.

A flurry of baseball activity is scheduled for Saturday with both local South Central League teams opening conference play and two tournaments involving five Pikes Peak League clubs. Wasson hosts Pueblo South and Trinidad is at Palmer for a doubleheader. There will be 10 a.m. starting times at both fields. Widefield, Harrison and Florence will travel to the Canon City Tournament while Academy High hosts its own four-team affair with Wheat-Ridge, Las Animas, and Cheyenne Mountain as visitors.

The track schedule has Wasson hosting a triangular meet at 4 p.m. Wednesday at Wasson Stadium with Palmer and Longmont the visitors. Friday the Thunderbirds travel to Pueblo for a meet with Central and Centennial. That same day Academy High and Cheyenne Mountain go to Fountain for another triangular.

Wasson will be facing one of the strongest teams on its schedule Tuesday alteronon when Boulder arrives in the Springs for the first of two straight games with local clubs. The Panthers were 10-8 a year ago and finished in a tie for third place in the Northern League while gaining a reputation as the hard-luck squad of the upstate conference. All three of the Panthers' league losses came in the final inning, two in extra frames.

From that squad coach Phil Cohen returns 10 lettermen, including most of last spring's top players. Pitchers Mike Deisher, who compiled a 5-3 record a year ago, will likely draw the nod against the Thunderbirds. Deisher also hit .373 with four homers and plays the outfield when he's not on the mound. Second baseman Gary Lydin hit a whopping .459 last year, center-fielder Bruce McDowell .296 with 18 stolen bases, right-fielder Jack Coppom .349, third-baseman Joey Wigotow .304, catcher Gary Moschetti .308, and first-sacker Steve Miles .257.

Funk will likely counter with his top returning pitcher, right-hander Tim Hamilton, who is 17-1 in his high school career. Hamilton threw three innings as the 'Birds hammered Adams City 22-0 last Wednesday and then sat by as Leroy Porterfield and Bob Kochis turned by Denver Jefferson 9-2 Saturday.

Palmer has dropped two straight but the Tribe should find relief against County, Tuesday. The Terrors lost a close 11-9 decision to St. Mary's last Thursday and fell to Tim Whalen and Denver Jefferson 5-2 Saturday altho Palmer hurler Ted Jones turned in a strong performance.

County has had only one start to date, losing 17-5 to Pueblo South last Friday.

16 AAU Cagers Named To All-Tourney Team

DENVER (UPI)—Sixteen AAU basketball players, 12 of whom will be entered in the Pan-American Tryouts in Kansas City April 1-2 were named here Sunday, with the champion Phillips Oilers placing nine members.

The Oilers won their 11th National AAU title since 1940 with a 100-70 victory over the D-C Truckers of Denver here Saturday.

The team, chosen after four days of AAU tournament play by 12 teams, was to be trimmed to 12 men by Phillips coach Bud Browning before the Pan-Am games. Browning was named coach of the AAU tryout squad.

Browning said the team would train this week in Bartlesville, Okla., and go to Kansas City Saturday.

The Phillips players named to the team were Don Kojis, Jerry Shipp, Wally Frank, Jim Hagen, Mike Moran, Charley Bowerman, Denny Price, Larry Pursiful and Bobby Rascoe.

Three members of the Truckers were named—Dennis Boone, Al Tate, and Carney Crisler. Others were Jesse Williams of Goodyear Wingfoots, Akron, Ohio, Eddie Bunch and Jim King of Prince Electric, Enid, Okla., and Tom Bolyard of the Marion-Kay Vanilla team of Brownstown, Ind.

Sun Devil Track Sprinter Sets World Record

TEMPE, Ariz. (AP) — Henry Carr of Arizona State University has twice broken the world record for the 220-yard dash around a full turn. Now he wants to better the 100-yard dash mark.

"If my start improves, I feel I can hit 9.2 seconds in the 100 and go :09.3 consistently," he said Sunday while reviewing his record shattering 220 performances. The 100 standard is :09.2.

The fast striding Detroit, Mich., sophomore's coach, Senon (Baldy) Castillo, agrees.

"He has the ability, all he needs to do is improve his start," Castillo said, odding the same applies to the 6-foot-3, 200-pound athlete's 220 efforts.

Last Tuesday, long - striding Henry did the 220 in :20.4 against the University of Utah. This was one-tenth second faster than the previous world best, :20.5 by Stone Johnson of Grambling, La., College; Paul Drayton, Villanova, and Ray Norton, Santa Clara Valley, Calif., Youth Village.

Then in a triangular meet Saturday with the University of Southern California and the University of Arizona, the amazing speedster did :20.3.

The Los Angeles Dodgers stole 198 bases in 1962. All but 94 were credited to speedy Maury Wills.

Attorney Says Burnett Will Welcome Test

ATLANTA (UPI)—An attorney for an Atlanta man who accused Alabama coach Paul Bryant and former Georgia athletic director Wallace Butts of rigging the 1962 Georgia-Alabama football game said Sunday his client will be happy to take another lie detector test to back up his charges.

The attorney, Pierre Howard, said he welcomed Georgia Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook's decision to have Bryant, Butts and George Burnett, their accuser, submit to polygraph tests given by the same operator.

All three already have taken such tests which they claim prove they told the truth about the incident, but the tests were given at different times by different operators.

"Any lie detector test that Mr. Cook arranges I know would be conducted in a fair manner," Howard said. "He (Burnett) will take this test, or any other test offered by the state."

Attorneys for Bryant and Butts have refused to comment on Cook's decision to give further lie detector tests to the three principals in the case.

Cook was ordered by Gov. Carl Sanders to investigate the game-rigging charges made in a national magazine.

Burnett claimed he overheard a telephone conversation between Butts and Bryant in which Butts gave Bryant Georgia's game strategy. Alabama won the game 35-0.

Borrowed Pole Gave Pennel Lift

By DAVID ZINMAN

MONROE, La. (AP)—John Pennel, who raised the world pole vault record to 16 feet, 3 inches, today owes his success to a borrowed fiberglass pole and movies.

The 22-year-old Northeast Louisiana State senior cleared the height with room to spare on his second attempt at the Memphis Relays Saturday.

"I grabbed as much sawdust as I could and tossed it high in the air," the 165-pound, 5-foot-10 vaulter said.

"I jumped up and hugged my coach (Bob Groesclose). There were only 500 people at the meet. They sounded like 5,000 at that moment."

His record vault was one-half inch higher than the world outdoor mark set last June by Pentti Nikula of Finland.

Other vaults have gone higher indoors—Nikula has done 16-8¾—but such marks are not recognized as world marks because only the United States has extensive indoor competition.

Pennel of Miami, Fla., said he broke his favorite pole in practice. He and his coach were unable to find another fiberglass pole of the same weight.

At the last minute, Pennel said they called Rice University and borrowed one. He had time to work out with it only once.

Pennel, whose previous best was 15-9 at the Shreveport Relays March 16, had cleared 16 feet in practice several times. But his meet vaults were inconsistent—dropping as low as 14 feet in the Coliseum Relays.

Pennel said Tommy Edmondson, another Northeast vaulter, took movies of him. Pennel noticed he was knocking the bar off because he wasn't getting his feet high enough into the air.

He started changing his style—"rocking back more on takeoffs."

Pennel, who is shooting next for 16-5, says he thinks 17 feet is within the realm of possibility.

"I think 17 feet will come soon and suddenly." "It may be reached one day by a vaulter who's been doing 16-5 and 16-6. That's the way these vault records have been falling. I think we'll be over 17 feet before the olympics."

Sikes Wins Golf Tourney At Miami

By BEN FUNK

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Dan Sikes plans to start a law career when he is through with golf, but the time when he will make the switch became more remote after he won the Doral Open's $9,000 top prize Sunday in a stretch duel with the veteran Sam Snead.

The victory, his first in two years on the tour, won him a spot in the Masters at Augusta, Ga.

He had sunk a 6-foot putt on the final hole to win the tournament and keep the hard-pressing 50-year-old Senad from forcing him into an 18-hole playoff.

"Was that just a 6-footer?" he asked. "Boy, it looked like 20 feet."

Sikes, a 6-foot-1, 170-pounder shot a 2-under-par 70 on his final round for a 72-hole total of 283. The aging Snead, limping on a sore foot, fired a 71 for 284 and second prize money of $4,600.

Paul Harney, third round co-leader, and others faded on the last nine holes as Sikes and Snead fought it out down to the wire. Professional golf's big names, Arnold Palmer 290, and Gary Player, 293, were stymied by the tight 7,028-yard course and tricky winds.

The 32-year-old Sikes actually won on the 10th when he curved a drive around the corner of a lake, dropped an 8 iron shot 15 feet from the pin and sank his putt for an eagle that put him three strokes ahead.

Sikes, who captained the University of Florida golf team in 1951 and won the Army championship in 1955 and the National Public Links tournament in 1958, has a law degree from Florida.

Fight Scheduled For Re-Match

NEW YORK (UPI) — Light heavyweight contenders Willie Pastrano and Wayne Thornton will be re-matched for "sometime in May," Harry Markson announced today, because of their excellent return television fight at Madison Square Garden Saturday night.

Markson is managing director of boxing at the Garden, where on Saturday the black-haired Pastrano of Miami Beach held blond Thornton of Bakersfield, Calif., to a 10-round draw that broke Wayne's winning string at nine straight.

Providence Coach Says NIT Champs 'At Their Best'

NEW YORK (AP)—Providence Coach Joe Mullaney described it pretty well.

"This was their best," he said. "They have a great offense and a great defense and in this one they blended everything."

Mullaney was talking about his Friars, who came off a troubled, uncertain start to build the longest winning string among the nation's major college basketball teams and capture one of the game's most prized titles—the National Invitation Tournament championship.

Providence nailed it down with an 81-66 victory over Canisius in the title game Saturday, displaying its usual racehorse, fast break offense and devastating defense, a combination of man to man and zone.

The victory was the Friars' 15th straight after they had struggled to an unimpressive 9-4 record early in the season. The diversified talent of the five starters—who played almost all the way all season—were slow to mesh but devastating when in gear.

El Paso County Cage Tournament Starts Wednesday

The 45th Annual El Paso County Basketball Tournament is scheduled to kick-off Wednesday at the Peyton, Colo., school gymnasium.

Teams entered in the four-day double elimination tourney are: Alta Vista, Ellicott, Miami, Falcon, Edison, Hanover, and the host school Peyton.

In the boys division, Alta Vista tangles with Hanover in the opening tilt. Other games Wednesday are: Falcon vs Peyton, and Ellicott vs Miami.

For the girls competition Wednesday it's Falcon vs Miami in the opener; Peyton vs Ellicott; and Edison vs Hanover.

Six games are on tap for Thursday's slate while eight games will be played on Friday.

U. S. Swimmers Break Records

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — With an awesome display of record smashing at the AAU indoor swim championships, American swimmers have served notice that they will bear watching at next year's Olympic Games.

A total of 14 national marks lay shattered in the wake of the four-day competition. Three of them were broken in Saturday night finals, which saw Indiana emerge as the top team with 91 points.

Patterson Offered Chance To Battle Cassius Clay

NEW YORK (UPI) — Former heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson will be offered the opportunity to rebuild his reputation by defeating Cassius Clay and thus set up a "big money" heavyweight title return bout with injured Sonny Liston.

Tom Bolan, president of Championship Sports, Inc., said he will confer on Wednesday with Patterson, whose April 10 bout with Liston was postponed because of a knee injury suffered by the champion.

"A Patterson-Clay fight is extremely attractive," said Bolan, "and should draw millions at the gate and on theater television."

Women's Tourney At Boulder

BOULDER, Colo. (UPI)— The first weekend of the 11th annual Colorado Woman's Bowling Association championships ended Sunday with class B teams outscoring the Class A contenders.

High team in the tourney was Class B Bowl-Aire Lanes of Fort Collins with 2556 pins. Skyways Lounge of Denver led Class A with 2478.

Class C was led by Classic Center of Greeley with 2290 and Class D was topped by Gingham Inn of Loveland with 2075.

Runnersup were: Class A Monoco Lanes, Denver, 2455; Class B MDC Concrete, Denver 2472; Class C Olympic Lanes Boulder 2261; Class D Park Standard Service, Denver 2072.

The tournament continues for the next four weekends at Olympic Lanes and Thunderbird here.

Ferraris Cop Honors in Sebring Race

SEBRING, Fla. (AP)—The Ferraris, like Romans thousands of years ago, came, saw, and conquered everything thrown at them in the Sebring 12-hour Endurance automobile race.

A big, blood-red screaming 12-cylinder speedster, driven 209 laps by John Surtees, a 28-year-old English motorcycle racing champion, and Lotovito Scarfiotti of Italy, led the Ferrari parade over the finish line Saturday.

Six of the 11 Ferrari entries finished in the first six positions. They won the prototype category, the grand touring class and took the first four places in the index of performance classification.

Jinx of No. 1 Catches Cincy in NCAA Playoff

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOUISVILLE (AP) — Memo to the nation's college basketball coaches:

If you want to win the national collegiate championship, take two preliminary steps: 1. Play well but not quite well enough to earn the No. 1 rating. 2. Coach well but not quite impressively enough to be named Coach of the Year.

That's what George Ireland and the Loyola of Chicago Ramblers did.

Loyola's heart-thumping 60-58 overtime victory over two-year champion Cincinnati Saturday night extended the failure of the nation's top-ranking teams to six straight years.

Not since unbeaten North Carolina survived a triple overtime battle with second-ranked Kansas in the classic finals of 1957 has the No. 1 ranked team wound up with the championship.

Kentucky, ranked ninth, won in 1958 when West Virginia was No. 1; California, No. 7, in 1959 when Kansas State had earned the top rating; third-ranked Ohio State in 1960 when Cincinnati was ranked first; and second-ranked Cincinnati in 1961 and 1962 when Ohio State was dominating the poll.

Now third-ranked Loyola has the crown in a season when Cincinnati was the overwhelming choice from start to finish.

If that doesn't indicate enough of a jinx, then figure this. In both 1961 and 1962, Ohio State's Fred Taylor had already made his thank-you speech as Coach of the Year when Cincinnati and Ed Jucker knocked him away from the championship. This time, the voters took the hint. Jucker is the Coach of the Year and Ireland of Loyola is the champ.

It has got to the stage where the stock picture in the championship dressing room is a group shot of the various lesser-ranked teams pointing to the ceiling yelling: "We're No. 1", while the kids and the coach who were so ranked uttered something like: "That's basketball."

It was all of that last weekend here at Freedom Hall when a tap-in by 6-foot-6 Vic Rouse as time ran out brought the Loyola Ramblers their first national championship in their first NCAA appearance.

While Coach of the Year Jucker fidgeted on the bench and his team of the year stalled on the court, Loyola overcame a 15-point deficit and sent the exciting battle into overtime on a 10-foot jump shot by All-America Jerry Harkness. The Ramblers won it on Rouse's follow to a jumper by Les Hunter with one second remaining in the extra period.

In the dressing room, the Ramblers—who had beaten second-ranked Duke 94-75 in the semifinals—lifted Ireland high in the air and yelled "We're No. 1. We're No. 1." Outside, Ireland's pretty daughter Kathy, a Loyola cheerleader chanted over and over: "We're Loyola, We're No. 1".

Ireland had this observation: "It's a great thing for basketball when peasants like us can win the national championship. It should give the other peasants a lift."

And there was Coach Jucker, turned back his Bearcats' bid for an unprecedented third straight championship with only the seventh loss in 89 games as head coach at Cincinnati.

"We have no excuses," he said. "Loyola is a fine and well-coached team. I'm proud of the Bearcats. It was still a tremendous season."

It sounded just like, "That's basketball."

Yankee Hurlers Boost Lack of Pitching Depth

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

If the 1962 New York Yankees had a fault, a weakness, it was lack of pitching depth. It wasn't enough to keep them from winning the World Series, but that was the flaw the experts pointed out.

So the Yanks went out and got themselves a pitcher.

So the rest of the American League, as usual, had better look a little bit out.

Stan Williams, a hulking right-hander counted on by the Yanks to become their fourth regular starting pitcher, turned in one of the better jobs of the spring exhibition season Sunday, allowing only a single hit and but three base-runners in a six-inning pitching chore.

Young Jim Bouton finished up the last three innings at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., preserving the one-hitter and helping the Yankees to a 3-0 victory over their cross-town National League rivals, the Mets.

The Los Angeles Dodgers also got a solid pitching job out of Johnny Podres. The 30-year-old lefty became the first Dodger to go nine innings in a six-hit, 6-1 triumph over Baltimore at Miami. Podres struck out nine and walked three.

In other games, Milwaukee whipped St. Louis 8-4 at St. Petersburg. Bernie Allen's single drove in the winning run in Minnesota's 4-3 12-inning victory over Philadelphia at Orlando. Kansas City edged Washington 6-5 at Bradenton, the Chicago White Sox edged Detroit 6-5 in 10 innings at Sarasota, Pittsburgh blasted Cincinnati 11-3 at Tampa, Cleveland beat Boston 7-4 at Scottsdale, Ariz., the Los Angeles Angels came from behind and beat Houston 6-5 at Las Vegas and San Francisco whipped the Chicago Cubs 11-6 at Phoenix.

Williams, 6-foot-4 and 230 pounds, came to the Yanks from the Dodgers in exchange for first baseman Bill Skowron. The 26-year-old hurler had a 14-12 record with Los Angeles last season and is expected to join Whitey Ford, Ralph Terry and Bill Stafford as the Yankees big four.

He walked only two, the only baserunners he allowed besides Al Jackson, who singled sharply to right.

The Yanks played with Mickey Mantle and Tony Kubek on the sidelines. Mantle is still bothered with a pulled groin muscle while the shortstop has an infected gland under his right arm.

At least three other major injuries cropped up at other training camps. An old shoulder ailment sidelined veteran Cincinnati pitcher Bob Purkey, a 23-game winner last season. He left with a pain in his shoulder after working two innings in the loss to Pittsburgh.

Philadelphia first baseman Roy Sievers is out with a cracked rib, suffered when hit by a pitched ball. He is expected to be out for three weeks and will miss the opening game.

Pittsburgh shortstop Johnny Logan had to be carried from the field after colliding with Ted Savage. He suffered a severe left knee bruise.

Pete Ward of the White Sox, Felipe Alou of the Giants and Kansas City rookie Dick Green were aong the hitting heroes. Alou had two homers in the Giants romp. Ward's third hit, a single, drove in the White Sox winning run in the 10th against Detroit and Green drove in three runs with a homer and a single against Washington.

ONE GIRL TOO MANY—Several members of the Washington University tennis team aren't a bit happy over the addition of the newest player on the team. She is Carol Hanks who became this week the first girl to play on the varsity at the school. Miss Hanks is ranked 12th in the country among women players. At least one future foe of Washington also feels that the Bears have one too many girls on the team. (AP Wirephoto)

Two Mat Champs Repeated While Sooners Win Crown

KENT, Ohio (UPI)—The University of Oklahoma Saturday night won the team championship in the NCAA wrestling tournament where two of three individual champions repeated.

In the night championship finals, Mike Martin of Oklahoma decisioned Robert Douglas of West Liberty of West Virginia 12-7 to retain his 130-pound crown while Mike Natvig of Army decisioned Lonnie Rubois of Minnesota, 6-2, to keep his 147-pound title.

Wayne Baughman of the University of Oklahoma, last year's 191-pound champion, lost his bid to repeat when he was decisioned in the finals by Jack Barden of Michigan, 4-2.

The 123-pound and the 137-pound title matches went into overtime. Mike Nissen of Nebraska pinned Mike Johnson of Pittsburgh in five seconds of the 123-pound overtime while William Dotson of State College of Iowa decisioned Tom Huff of the University of Iowa 3-2 in the 137-pound overtime.

Oklahoma scored 48 points to nose out Iowa State with 45. Trailing were Michigan with 36, while Syracuse, Pittsburgh and Oklahoma State tied at 32.

Other championship finals:

157 — Kirk Pendleton, Lehigh, dec. Phil Kinyon, Oklahoma State, 4-2.

167 — James Harrison, Pittsburgh, dec. Steve Comb.s U. of Iowa, 3-2.

177 — Dean Lahr, CU, dec. Harry Houska, Ohio U., 5-2.

Heavyweight: James Nance, Syracuse, dec. Larry Kristoff, Southern Illinois, 2-1.

Other team scoring: Colorado State U. 23, State College of Iowa and Nebraska 16, CU 13, Colorado State College 10, Air Force, 8, Kansas State and Adams State 4, Wyoming, 3, and New Mexico 1.

Robertson Again Is Star As Royals Down Syracuse

By United Press International

They called Bob Cousy "Mr. Clutch"—so now maybe they'll be calling Oscar Robertson "Mr. Swish."

The brilliant Cincinnati Royal Star, both playmaker and scorer, is taking over as the No. 1 star of the National Basketball Association's playoff series.

Robertson scored 13 points in a critical third-period rally to lead the Royals to a 125-118 victory over the Syracuse Nationals Sunday night and send their Eastern Division playoff series into a fifth and vital showdown game Tuesday night.

At the same time, the Detroit Pistons beat the St. Louis Hawks, 107-103, and retained their hopes of winning the Western Division playoff series. St. Louis leads, 2-1, with the fourth game scheduled for Tuesday night.

Robertson was held to eight points in the first half but broke loose in the second for the key baskets of Cincinnati's victory.

The fifth and decisive game of the Eastern series will be held in Syracuse, Tuesday night.

Dave DeBusschere and Bob Ferry scored 23 points each for the Pistons while Bob Pettit had 36 for the Hawks.

Utah Jumper Takes Title in Ski Championship

SOLITUDE, Utah (UPI)— University of Washington skier Tom Nord made the longest jumps in the Western States Regional Jump Championship here Sunday but a University of Utah jumper took the title.

Nord, winner of the NCAA jump Saturday, had leaps of 187 and 188 feet but lost to Utah skier Fritjhof Prydz, who had somewhat better form in the first annual meet. Prydz had leaps of 186 and 184 in soaring to the jump title.

Nord set a hill record with a 188 mark. His best other jump was 187.

The jump was sponsored by the Intermountain Ski Association and the University of Utah. It followed the NCAA jump held here last week which ended Saturday.

Official results:

Prydz—Best two of three jumps—184, 187; points for form and distance—231.25.

Pastrano, Thornton Fight End in Draw

NEW YORK (AP)—Wily Willie Pastrano of Miami and body banging Wayne Thornton fought to a draw Saturday night in a rousing 10-round television fight at Madison Square Garden.

Thornton, of Bakersfield, Calif., had drubbed Pastrano six weeks ago but the return was an action-packed battle all the way.

The two judges had it a draw while Referee Art Mercante had Thornton in front, 5-4-1 in rounds. The Judges, Leo Birnbaum and Bill Recht, gave each fighter five rounds and five points. The AP card has Thornton in front, 6-4.

Each weighed 175¾ pounds.

Black Hawks Finish Second In Final League Standings

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Chicago Black Hawks emerged runners-up in the final National Hockey League standings and Detroit's Gordie Howe and Chicago's Glenn Hall annexed individual honors after the regular season wind-up Sunday night.

The Hawks edged the Boston Bruins 4-3 while the Montreal Canadiens were being blanked by the New York Rangers 5-0. The results left Chicago in second place with 81 points compared to 79 for the third-place Canadiens.

In the other finale, the fourth-place Detroit Red Wings nipped the champion Toronto Maple Leafs 3-2. The Leafs finished with 82 points and the Wings with 77 in one of the tightest races in years.

Howe collected one goal and one assist and nailed down his sixth scoring title. He wound up with 38 goals—most in the league—and 48 assists for 86 points.

Hall captured the Vezina Trophy for the first time in eight seasons, allowing 178 goals.

The Vezina award goes to the goalie who played the most games for the team with the fewest goals against it.

The Stanley Cup playoffs get under way Tuesday night with Montreal at Toronto and Detroit at Chicago in the openers of the best-of-7 semifinal series.

BRITISH INVASION

NEW YORK (UPI)—The British "invasion" of Broadway, where many top shows this season are English imports, has spilled over into television.

British star Trevor Howard has the title role in one of the few original video dramas of the season, "The Invincible Mr. Disraeli," a 90-minute NBC Hallmark Hall of Fame special scheduled for April 4. Irish-born Greer Garson co-stars as wife of the famed 19th century British prime minister. And cast as Disraeli's secretary, Corry, is the noted London character actor, Denholm Elliot.

Four Priests Freed By Cuba; Go to Spain

HAVANA (AP)—Four Roman Catholic Priests, released from Isle of Pines prison last week left for Madrid Sunday.

The four, who spent months as political prisoners, were Ramon Sidalgo, Luis Jojo, Francisco Blazquez and Raimiero Lebrock. All but Lebrock, who is Cuban, are from Spain.

Since their release, they had been saying at the residence of the Vatican charge d'affaires, where each said Mass prior to leaving for the airport.

A few Spanish diplomats and a handful of former parishoners bid the noticeably prison-weary priests farewell as they boarded a Spanish airliner.

Most Expensive Lighter Built By Japanese

NEW YORK (UPI) — Another item for that "man who has everything" has been brought to New York by Japanese inventor Taisho Ikeya.

It's what may well be the world's most expensive cigarette lighter—18 karat gold and priced at $500.

Ikeya, vice president of Ichikawa Sangyo Co. Ltd., of Tokyo, said his firm initially produced just 100 of the gas lighters to show Japan can export luxury items as well as the wide range of lower - priced goods shipped here by his company and other Japanese exporters.

The Japanese inventor spent nearly eight years perfecting the lighter, which has a unique ratchet system that adjusts the flame to coordinate with the climate. It operates wihtao w -part interior operates with a two-part interior automatically changing the fuel into a gas vapor that ignites the moment the switch is flicked.

NO PENNY PINCHER

TENTERDEN, England (UPI)—Annette Cladd, 18, was scheduled to get married Saturday but backed out at the last minute when she found her fiance, Jonathan Nobb, had not been saving his pennies for the wedding.

"Jonathan promised me he had been saving since last July, when I found out it was not true I told him that the wedding was off," she said.

HINTS FROM Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Folks:

I just want to pass on a little tip to other housewives who use moth balls and flakes.

Did you know that you could put these flakes "and" balls in an ordinary paper envelope and seal it and that they could be practically "thrown" any place, such as the "back" of your closet shelves, attic, basement and so forth?

Well . . . I could write a thousand words on how wonderful this idea is. In the first place, you can "see" the white envelope. All you have to do when the moth flakes have evaporated is touch the envelope . . . if it's empty . . . then you are not going to get any more workin' from it.

If it's full, you don't have to bother about it for another month or so.

I have found after testing this for nine months—that if the envelope is completely sealed it still gives off a bit of odor but that if you take an ice pick and punch a "few" holes (ladies, please do not take your fingernail and gouge the envelope because the moth balls will evaporate too fast) that the odor escapes more quickly.

It's really a tricky way to keep moth balls and flakes — and I have tried many, many ways. After testing all of the hints you sent in, I found putting moth balls in an envelope was the best method.

Do keep moth balls out of the reach of little children. Read the caution labels and Joe Blow's instructions. They're important. — Heloise

Dear Sandra:

I am not cross-eyed that I know of, but I do wear glasses. At 43 I found that I could see better with 'em! —Love, Heloise

Dear Heloise:

For women who have wall-to-wall carpet: Ever fret over how to vacuum right up to the walls and corners where the carpet meets the base board?

I have a very small nylon brush which looks like a miniature whisk broom and in fact was intended as a clothes brush. It fits onto the cord rack of my vacuum cleaner and hangs there as a "permanent attachment," always ready when I need it to whisk out those areas so hard to get to.

This gets every bit of dust and lint and the tiny particles that seem to want to hide in the cracks against the walls and corners.

If there is any practical way of cleaning the cloth tapes on Venetian blinds without taking down the blinds, I would appreciate it if some woman would let us know. —Gerry

Dear Folks:

Anyone got any ideas on how to wash these tapes without removing the blind? They sure will be appreciated. Or is there an answer? Write to me in care of this paper so we can put your answer in this column. —Heloise

---

Dear Heloise:

Recently I saw my neighbor peeling fresh beets with a paring knife and wondered if there are others who haven't learned the easy way to peel beets.

Place the beets in a pan of water, leave one-half inch of the stem and the root of the beet "on." This keeps the sand out of the beet while cooking! Bring the water to a boil and continue to boil for about 15 minutes.

Remove the beets from the fire and place them under cold water in the sink. Allow the water to run on the beets until they are cool enough to handle.

Then cut off both ends of the beet and the peeling will slip right off. Slice, dice, or leave whole and place in clean pan of water—which will have "no" sand at all—and cook until done. — Billie Roberts

Used Car Switch Leads to Confusion

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — A Pensacola man took a used car from an automobile agency lot to try it out. When the car was not returned, the car company reported it stolen.

The potential customer's wife returned the car, but left it on an adjoining car lot.

The manager of the first car lot spotted it and recovered it. But in the meantime the operator of the second car lot had the car washed and installed a $35 set of seat covers, new floor mats and kick pads on the side of the doors.

Officials of the two car lots were trying today to reach an agreement on payment for the additions.

Tighter Purse Strings Seen In Foreign Aid

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress appears likely to act on a presidential committee's recommendation to tighten up the foreign aid program by pulling the purse strings about $1 billion tighter.

The signs on Capitol Hill indicate the program will be the main target of efforts to trim President Kennedy's $98.8-billion budget.

Kennedy has asked for $4.9 billion in foreign aid for the year beginning July 1—$1 billion more than this year. Kennedy, however, is expected to send a message to Congress this week cutting back his aid request by $200 million or more.

But one high official remarked that the administration will be lucky to escape with a reduction of no more than $1 billion.

In a hard-hitting report, the presidential committee—made up of 10 private citizens headed by Gen. Lucius Clay — told Kennedy the program was too big—trying to do "too much for too many."

The report, made public Saturday evening, found that this year' $3.9-billion foreign aid program was overweight by half a billion dollars when weighed on the scales of the tougher new standards it was recommending.

This led to some interpretations that since the new foreign aid request is $1 billion higher than this year's program, the Clay committee was recommending it be chopped by $1.5 billion.

But William T. Dentzler, executive director of the Clay committee, said Sunday night this was not so.

The committee, he said, was speaking of only this year's program, ending June 30, and not next year's. Also, he said, the report listed several new projects which it thought should be added.

The committee did not propose any immediate specific cuts. It urged, though, graduated future reductions, tightening of assistance criteria and reassessment of administration procedures and personnel.

These steps, it contended, were necessary to strengthen the program which the committee felt was essential to security of the United States and the non-Communist world.

The only committee member to dissent was AFL-CIO President George Meany. He said aid funds should be substantially increased. He complained the report might be disastrously used by critics of foreign aid.

Without reference to proposed reductions, Kennedy said in a statement that the report was very heartening because of the committee's "expression of support for properly administered mutual defense and development programs."

But the committee's statement that "we are indeed attempting too much for too many" was the kind of ammunition that fit the guns of such economy advocates as Rep. Otto E. Passman, D-La.

As chairman of a House Appropriations subcommittee, Passman wants to cut the program by $2.5 billion. Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., said he will vote as a member of the Senate Appropriations Committee for equally deep reductions.

Clay's offer to testify seemed likely to be snapped up by congressional committees anxious to get at the how, when and where behind his remark at a news conference that "I feel that a lot of money has been wasted" in the program.

These committees would want to know also how he and his colleagues propose that administration be tightened up.

On the other hand, supporters of the program probably would like to hear an expansion of the report's contention that foreign aid would be necessary even if "all our outstanding differences with the communists were to be resolved tomorrow."

Increasing Youth Crime Reported in West Europe

By GEORGE BOULTWOOD

STRASBOURG, France (AP)—"Shall we go to the movies tonight or attack a woman?"

This cruel jest, circulating in a West Berlin high school, reflects an increase of youthful criminality and brutality in Western Europe.

The Council of Europe asked 12 of its member countries about juvenile delinquency. All reported rapes, murders, stabbings, auto stealing, theft and wanton destruction by minors.

The report said 94 out of every 100 boys and girls never get into any trouble with the law, and held that "on the whole youth does well in these difficult times."

What alarmed the investigators was the recent tendency for large groups of young people suddenly to go wild.

West Berlin police have investigated over 30 mass rapes by bands of young hooligans in just over a year.

Five years ago such attacks were unknown in Berlin. The new-style prowling gangs seize women or young girls, often minors. A gang of 19 youths mishandled a 15-year-old girl for two hours before releasing her.

The head of the Berlin vice squad, Horst Schramm, said: "These criminals are not hard up for sex. Without exception they have girl friends who are not in the least prudish. They simply delight in the use of force."

In Munich, thousands of youths battled police in the streets on successive nights.

A hundred young Swedes clad in leather jackets invaded a small town on motorcycles and terorized the inhabitants for hours.

A schoolboy was fatally stabbed by companions at a London bus stop.

Girls from good homes in the Netherlands stole records and cosmetics from department stores.

French police had to send mobile gendarmes to the Riviera because of the depredations of youth gangs.

Such incidents are getting more numerous in most parts of Western Europe. Legislators, teachers and parents are deeply worried.

Delinquency is less prevalent in the underdeveloped areas, such as the south of Italy and rural Spain. Youths get out of line less often where family ties are strongest, in primitive villages where the clan spirit prevails.

Delinquency happens most in Europe's highly industrialized areas—the glittering neon world of coffee bars, juke boxes, and automobiles. Most of the affected youngsters earn easy money in simple jobs in the busy factories of the industrial regions.

The council's report showed juvenile delinquency has decreased in Belgium, remained stable in Denmark and is soaring again in West Germany after leveling off for a while.

Homes broken by divorce, the late return of fathers from prison camps, the emancipation of European women and consequent downgrading of father's authority, are some of the factors cited as causing delinquency.

The idea that the youth crime wave reflects World War II is undermined, however, by the fact that neutral countries such as Sweden have the same youth troubles as Germany and France.

Investigators note less delinquency among German refugee families which had a hard struggle to build a new existence. War orphans also get good behavior marks.

Nor are poor living conditions always to blame. British researchers found that when families moved from slums into bright new housing estates there was often an increase of youth delinquency.

The picture being given by European investigators is of young people who are economically affluent but culturally improverished.

Unable to bridge the gulf between themselves and their elders, they band together, dress alike, haunt the same places.

The nicknames given these groups refer to their unconventional clothes. In England they are called Teddy Boys, or simply Teds because they affect Edwardian styles. In France they are Blousons Noirs (black jackets) and in Germany Lederjacken (leather jackets) or Halbstarke (half-strong). In England some of them are called "Ton up Kids" because their success symbol is to own a motorcycle that can "do the town"—reach 100 m.p.h.

Italians were bothered by rowdy groups on motorscooters. The activity faded when the press referred to them as Mascaloni—ridiculing them by calling them "no-good" loafers.

The failure to earn an heroic title seemingly punctured their cockiness.

BIGGEST BOOK

World's biggest religious book is preserved in the Kuthodaw pagoda, Mandalay, Burma. Individual shrines house the 729 marble tablets of Buddhist scriptures clustered about a tall central pagoda.

Experiment Aids Mental Therapy At VA Hospital

PALO ALTO, Calif. (UPI)—A worker walks away from his bench a few hours, but he is not fired; only docked in pay.

It is part of a successful experiment in rehabilitating chronic mental patients through use of a sheltered workshop. The workers are patients at the Veterans Administration Hospital here.

The shop operates as a non-profit corporation with jobs contracted from outside firms. Patients are paid on a production basis, rather than by the hour.

Jobs are chiefly of the assembly line type. For example, patients repair and recondition electronic equipment. The shop has taken in as much as 16,000 pounds of dishes at one time, packed them in small cartons and marketed the cartons.

Fast workers earn $2 per hour but wages are generally low. This is because operating funds for the shop are not ample; also, it is good motivation for patients to look forward to earning more for the same sort of work outside the hospital.

Dr. Roy S. Hubbs, psychiatrist in charge, reports that the work seems to be therapeutic, as is the ability to earn money. If because of anxiety or depression a worker walks away from his bench, it is overlooked.

The shop has had 48 patients as employes. Of these, 25 are now out of the hospital and employed in the community. Of a group of 48 similar patients, chosen through the years to be valid for comparison, eight have been released from the hospital to outside employment.

Postman Cannot Get Into White House

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — A Baltimore postman, having strong feelings on civil rights, wrote President Kennedy a letter, which he wanted to deliver personally.

So after work, William Moore, 35, left for the White House.

After a 45-mile hike to Washington, interrupted by six hours of sleep and two stops for food, Moore arrived at the White House gates at 1:30 p.m. Friday with his letter.

"You can't come in here," the guard told him.

The postman then asked how he was to get the letter to the President.

"Drop it in the mail box," the guard said politely.

Moore is white.

Growth of Bureaucracy Predicted in Congress

EDITOR'S NOTE — More than 7,000 men and women work for the members of Congress and the congressional committees at an annual cost to taxpayers in excess of $50 million. The ranks of this private, nonelected bureaucracy may swell further. Some observers view this growth as a favorable development. Others are beginning to wonder if staffers eventually will have to be hired to find out what other staffers are doing.

By STANLEY MEISLER

WASHINGTON (AP) — In 1914, when Carl Vinson, a 31-year-old Democrat from Georgia, came to Congress for the first time, his entire staff was made up of one secretary, paid $125 a month. The law allowed him and all other congressmen no more.

Today Vinson has four members on his staff. The average representative is allowed to hire up to nine at an over-all cost of $4,000 a month. The average senator usually hires more. And so may the congressional committees.

In a rush to keep pace with the onslaught of modern pressures, Congress has created its own private bureaucracy that now numbers more than 7,000 people and costs more than $50 million a year.

There's a chance it soon will get bigger and costlier.

This week the House will debate a proposal, approved by its Administration Committee, to increase the office expenses of each congressman by $10,506 a year so he can add still another employe to his payroll.

The huge bureaucracy on Capitol Hill has provoked criticism, particularly from Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., who leads a futile fight each year to wipe out a good number of the Senate's subcommittee staffs.

"Many of these subcommittees are useless," Ellender said in an interview. "All they do is create jobs, monopolize space, and glorify senators. And like old soldiers, the subcommittees never die."

Ellender pointed out that the Senate Judiciary Committee has 15 regular staff members while its 14 subcommittees have 150 staff members.

"I think every senator on the committee has a subcommittee," Ellender said.

Ellender's stand draws support from Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb.

In a Senate speech recently, Curtis said "Pretty soon we shall need more staff to find out what some other staff is doing."

A sturdy defense of big congressional staffs comes from Dr. George B Galloway, senior specialist in American government for the Library of Congress and former staff director of the senate-House committee that conducted hearings on the reorganization of Congress in 1946.

"The increase in staff is one of the most favorable developments in Congress," Galloway said in an interview. "It is a third force that provides Congress with information and intelligence to counteract the interested opinions that come to Congress from interested parties on the one hand and from the executive department on the other."

In Galloway's view, the cause of most of the mushrooming is quite simple: The problems of Congress today are far different and far more complex than the problems of Congress when Carl Vinson was a freshman.

Vinson, dean of the House today with almost 50 years service, recalls that "Congress didn't have the work then that it has now."

"We were concerned with just three issues: tariffs, a few agriculture bills, the prosecution of World War I," he told a newsman.

"Since then—" Vinson stopped, smiled, and with a swift rotation of his hand, acted out the acceleration of federal government brought on by the great depression, World War II, the cold war and near $100-billion budgets.

The first Congress, which met from 1789 to 1791, introduced 268 bills, enacted 108 public laws, and had 155 committee reports. The 87th Congress, which met in 1961 and 1962, introduced 17,220 bills, enacted 833 public laws, and had 4,852 committee reports.

The first Congress had only two committees. In contrast, the Senate Committee on Government Operations reported that in 1955 and 1956 the Senate alone had 17 committees and 129 subcommittees, which, with 13 joint Senate-House committees, met a total of 3,951 times for a total of 11,677 hours.

In 1907, individual congressmen were allowed $1,500 a year for staff assistance. This rose to $2,000 in 1917, $4,000 in 1924, $5,000 in 1929, and $6,500 in 1940.

The total cost of congressional staff salaries was $3 million in 1920 and $6.5 million in 1940. The present level of more than $50 million could not have been reached without the liberal staff allowances of the Legislative Reorganization Act of 1946. Congress passed the act after exhaustive committee hearings on the best ways to streamline Congress so it could meet the modern age.

The number of congressional employes now fluctuates from month to month, but it averages 4,250 in the House and 3,000 in the Senate. Of the House total, 3,000 work in the offices of individual congressmen and 500 work for committees. Of the Senate total, 1,700 work in the offices of individual senators and 600 work for committees. The rest, including capitol policemen, telephone operators, and laborers, serve Congress as a whole.

The size of staffs vary from congressman to congressman. Representatives in districts with more than a half-million constituents are allowed to hire 10 staff members instead of nine. Senators from the more populous states are allowed bigger staff allowances than senators from the smaller states.

Clark Mollenhoff Speaks April 26 In Boulder

Clark Mollenhoff, widely known Washington, D. C., reporter for Cowles Publications, will deliver the annual Crosman Memorial Lecture at 8 p.m. Friday, April 26, at the University of Colorado.

The speech, free and public, will be one of the highlights of the CU School of Journalism's Colorado Newspaper Conference, which meets April 26-27.

Mollenhoff holds a Pulitzer Prize for national affairs reporting, two Sigma Delta Chi Washington coverage awards and numerous other journalism honors.

Mollenhoff was born, reared and educated in Iowa. He joined the Des Moines Register and Tribune in 1941, working as a full-time reporter while attending Drake University Law School. He began covering the Washington scene in 1950 for Cowles Publications, which include Look Magazine and the Minneapolis Star and Tribune in addition to the Register.

His book, "Washington Cover-Up," was published last year by Doubleday.

Chicago Teacher Speaks at CC On April 9

Frank Knight, professor emeritus of economics at the University of Chicago, will deliver the sixth annual Abbott Memorial Lecture at Colorado College April 9.

The Abbott Memorial Lectures were established in 1958 by the widow of Dr. W. Lewis Abbott, professor of business, economics and sociology at the independent college of arts and sciences for 29 years.

A native of Philadelphia, Prof. Abbott received his bachelor of arts, master of arts and doctor of philosophy degree from the University of Pennsylvania.

He came to Colorado College in 1920 as head of the department of economics and sociology. He previously taught at the University of Pennsylvania and at Hamline University, and in the summer schools of the University of Colorado, Colorado State College and Washington State College.

Dr. Abbott was the author of two books: "Competition and Combination in the Wholesale Grocery Trade" and "Child Labor and Farm Life in the Arkansas Valley."

He was killed in an automobile accident in 1949.

Journalists To Meet At Broadmoor

A meeting of professional journalists from Colorado, Utah, Wyoming and New Mexico, will be held under sponsorship of Sigma Delta Chi, national professional Journalistic society, May 4, at the Broadmoor Hotel.

The sessions will examine problems common to newsmen in newspaper, radio, television and wire services according to William Kostka, SDX regional director from Denver. It is one of 11 such sessions to be held in the United States during April and May.

More than 900 residents of the four-state area are members of SDX. The conference will include seminars, panel discussions and outstanding speakers with topics ranging from freedom of information to the economics of publishing. A complete program will be announced at a later date.

Two Dog Bite Incidents Reported

Two dog bite incidents were reported over the weekend to the sheriff's office.

Five-year-old Cheryle Nall, 3236 Poinsetta Dr., was bitten on the left hand by a stray dog which was taken to the Humane Society. The incident occurred near the child's home.

A dog belonging to A. E. LeMasters, 3613 Leeds Lane, bit Carl Van Camp, four-years-old, at his home 3710 Windsor Dr., according to the report. The dog has had rabies shots.

ORDINANCE NO. 2854

AN ORDINANCE ADOPTING A CODE OF ETHICS, CREATING A BOARD OF ETHICS AUTHORIZING ADVISORY OPINIONS BY SAID BOARD AND PROVIDING PENALTIES FOR THE VIOLATION OF THIS ORDINANCE

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE PEOPLE OF THE CITY OF COLORADO SPRINGS:

Section 1. Article II of Chapter 2 of the Code of the City of Colorado Springs, 1958, said article relating to officers and employees of the City, be and the same hereby is amended by adding thereto division (1) to read as follows:

Section 2. Declaration of Policy. The proper operation of democratic government requires that public officials and employees be independent, impartial, and responsible to the people; that government decisions and policy be made in the proper channels of the governmental structure; that public office not be used for personal gain; and that the public have confidence in the integrity of its government. In recognition of these goals there is hereby established a Code of Ethics for all officials and employees, whether elected or appointed, paid or unpaid. The purpose of this Code is to establish ethical standards of conduct for all such officials and employees by setting forth those acts or actions that are incompatible with the best interests of the City and by directing disclosure by such officials and employees of private financial or other interests in matters affecting the City. The provisions and purpose of this Code and such rules and regulations as may be established are hereby declared to be in the best interests of the City of Colorado Springs.

Section 3.—24.1. Code of Ethics.

a. Conflicts of interest — No officer or employee of the City shall engage in any business or transaction or have a financial or other interest, direct or indirect, which is in conflict with the proper discharge of his official duties nor shall he be or become interested directly or indirectly in any manner whatsoever, except by operation of law in any business dealings with the City. As used in this section, the words "business dealings with the City" shall mean:

1) any contract, work or business or the performance of or litigation arising out of or involving any such contract, work or business or the sale or acquisition of any property, the expense, price or consideration for which is payable in or from the city treasury or by any assessment levied pursuant to law;

2) or the purchase, lease, rental or letting of, or grant of license or permit to utilize to any real or other property belonging to or taken by the City or which shall be sold for taxes or assessments, or by virtue of legal process or any provision of law by and at the suit of the City.

3) as used in the ordinance the word "officer" shall as provided in the Charter mean a Councilman or Police Magistrate.

This section shall not be construed to prohibit a councilman or other officer or employee from being affiliated with, employed by or representing a person, firm or corporation whose direct or indirect interest in such business dealings with the City form an insubstantial part of its total business, provided that he has no direct or indirect interest in such business dealings and receives no part of the benefits thereof, except his regular salary or compensation, and takes no active part in connection therewith.

b. Representing private interests before City agencies — No Councilman or other officer or employee of the City shall appear in behalf of private interests before the Council or any department, board or agency of the City. Councilmen, however, may appear without compensation in behalf of constituents or in the performance of public or civic obligations. This section shall not prohibit appearances upon matters only incidently requiring official action which do not develop into a substantial part of the employment provided, that the retainer is not for the purpose of appearing before the agency, and provided further, that the compensation, in whole or in part, is not contingent or dependent upon the actions of such agency. No person serving the City without compensation on one of its boards or agencies shall appear, either directly or indirectly, on behalf of private interests in matters involving the board or agency which he serves or before any board or agency of the City affecting matters involving the board or agency in which he serves.

c. Representing private interests before Courts — No councilman or other officer or employee of the City shall represent private interests in any action or proceeding against the interests of the City in any litigation to which the City or any of its departments, boards or agencies is a party.

d. Disclosure by councilman of interest in legislation — A councilman who has a direct or indirect financial or private interest in any proposed legislation shall publicly disclose on the official records of the council the nature and extent of such interest.

e. Disclosure by officer or employee of interest in legislation — An officer or employee who, whether paid or unpaid, has a direct or indirect financial or other private interest in any legislation, and who participates in discussion before or gives official opinion to the council or any department, board or agency of the city, shall publicly disclose on the official record the nature and extent of such interest.

f. Gifts and favors — No councilman or other officer or employee, whether paid or unpaid, shall accept any valuable gift, whether in the form of service, loan, thing or promise, or any other form from any person, firm or corporation which to his knowledge is interested directly or indirectly in any manner whatsoever in business dealings with the City.

g. Disclosure of confidential information — No councilman or other officer or employee, whether paid or unpaid, shall disclose confidential information concerning the property, government or affairs of the City, nor shall he use such information to advance the financial or other private interest of himself or others.

h. Investments in conflict with official duties — No councilman or other officer or employee, whether paid or unpaid, shall invest, or hold any investment directly or indirectly in any financial, business, commercial or other private transaction which creates conflict with his official duties.

i. Incompatible employment — No Councilman or other officer or employee, whether paid or unpaid, shall engage in or accept private employment or render services for private interests when such employment or service is incompatible with the proper discharge of his official duties.

j. Future employment — No Councilman or other officer or employee, whether paid or unpaid, shall solicit, negotiate for, or promise to accept employment by any person, firm or corporation with which he or his agency is engaged on behalf of the City in the transaction of business or which is or may be affected by his official action.

Section 3.—24.2. Violations of any of the provisions of this ordinance shall constitute cause for fines, suspension, removal from office or employment, or other disciplinary action.

Section 3.—24.3. Board of Ethics.

a. There is hereby created and established a board of ethics to consist of the City Attorney, City Manager or Director of Personnel and three public members to be appointed by the Mayor with the approval of the City Council who shall be domiciled in the City of Colorado Springs and who shall serve without compensation. The public members shall each serve for a term of three years. The initial appointment of the first three public members shall be as follows: One member for a term of one year; one member for a term of two years, and one member for a term of three years, so as to effect a staggered term system. The members shall elect a chairman who shall be one of the public members.

b. The board shall (1) receive and initiate complaints of violations of the code of ethics, (2) hear and investigate complaints and transmit the findings to the appropriate authorities, (3) render advisory opinions or interpretations with respect to application of the code, either on request or its own initiative and (4) propose revisions to the code to assure its continuing pertinence and effectiveness.

c. All requests for advisory opinions or interpretations, and all complaints and investigations, shall be kept confidential.

d. The board shall publish its advisory opinions and intrepretations with such deletions as may be necessary to prevent disclosure of the identity of the officer or employee involved once or twice a year in permanent form.

Section 3.—24.4. This ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and publication, as provided by the Charter.

Dated at Colorado Springs, Colorado this 15th day of March, 1963.

SYBIL AND AXEL PERFORM FOR THE CHILDREN IN WARD E.
THANK YOU! AND NOW, JUST ONE SHORT, SERIOUS POEM... THAT I DEDICATE TO DR. CASEY.
"IF I CAN STOP ONE HEART FROM BREAKING, I SHALL NOT LIVE IN VAIN; IF I CAN EASE ONE LIFE THE ACHING, OR COOL ONE PAIN, OR HELP ONE FAINTING ROBIN UNTO HIS NEST AGAIN, I SHALL NOT LIVE IN VAIN."

ORPHAN ANNIE

IN TWO BURLAP SACKS, IN A SEALED EMPTY BOXCAR, ANNIE AND SANDY BEGIN WHAT MAY BE THEIR LAST LONG JOURNEY!
WELL, THAT WAS A JOB I SHOULD HAVE DONE LONG AGO! BY THE TIME THEY'RE FOUND THERE'LL BE NO WAY T'PIN A THING ON ME!
AS ALL IN "SHACKTOWN" SEARCH FRANTICALLY FOR ANNIE, FROM A BALCONY OF THE HACIENDA LILY HUSHE STARES DOWN INTO THE STREET!
WHILE FROM A ROOF ACROSS THE WAY A SMALL FIGURE STARES AT LILY! AH! THE DAY THE CARNIVAL BROKE UP! SHE IS THE ONE ANNIE WENT AWAY WITH! IT ALL COMES BACK TO ELWOOD NOW!

NEW YORK (UPI)—Comedian Bert Lahr, who has several roles in the Broadway show, "The Beauty Part," ordered six soft drinks at the Hotel Edison after a recent performance.

Surprised the waiter asked him why he wanted so many. "I want a drink for every peron I play in the show," replied Lahr.

Italians Propose Popular Voting For President

By ERNEST SAKLER

ROME (UPI)—A few men of different political faiths have come up recently with the suggestion that Italians elect their parliamentary candidates in American-style primary elections and elect a president by popular vote.

The prospect does not appear very likely or immediate in a country where politicians tend to take the old systems for granted and to assume that any departure from Italy's current political forms would be a blow to democracy.

But the fact that the recommendation to borrow these features from the U. S. political system has come from widely diversified sources has attracted attention.

Under Italy's present system, parliamentary candidates for each party are selected by the party's ruling body, which represents the comparatively few card-holders rather than all the voters. The electorate then votes for the party ticket as a whole, although each voter also has the right to cast "preferential votes" for up to five candidates included in the ticket of his choice.

Comparatively few voters make use of the right to cast preferential votes, so the system means in effect that the choice of the men to be elected rests largely with the party machinery. This is particularly serious for parties like the Christian Democrats, which include many widely varying shades of opinion. A Christian Democratic voter can never be sure if his vote will help elect a conservative or a progressive, a landowner or a labor leader.

Bartolo Ciccardini, a leader of the Youth Movement of the governing Christian Democratic Party, has urged primary elections.

Addressing a meeting of Christian Democratic youth leaders, Ciccardini said the old 19th century setup of parties no longer is adequate in big cities, where a growing role must be played by specialized associations of consumers, parents, immigrants from the south of Italy, youth clubs and the like, all of whom will want broader representation.

Acceptance of U.S.-style primaries would be easier than instituting election of a president by popular vote, which would involve numerous amendments to the constitution.

Under Italy's present charter, based largely on French 19th century patterns, only parliament is elected by direct popular vote. Parliament then elects a president for a seven-year term with very limited powers. The actual chief executive is the premier, who must win an investiture vote from parliament and can be toppled at any time by a vote of no confidence.

Manlio Lupinacci, a right wing liberal, is among those who would prefer an American-style, strong president elected by popular vote, but admits the idea has little chance of success.

In the meantime, he has suggested, Italy might try popular election of mayors as a first step. Mayors at present are elected by city councilors rather than directly by the voters.

Japan's Solons Will Get Increase in Pay

TOKYO (AP)—Japan's Parliament deputies agreed today to give themselves a $125 raise in basic monthly allowance, despite public opposition.

The deputies now receive $375 a month before taxes as allowance.

Their monthly income — including this basic allowance, plus transportation, telephone and lodging fees — ranges from $778 to $889.

A bill revising monthly allowances for Parliament deputies was unanimously passed in the lower house plenary session.

The bill has been submitted to the upper house for final approval.

Foreign Ministers' Meeting Canceled

BONN, Germany (AP) — West Germany announced here it had canceled invitations to a foreign ministers' meeting which would have brought together Britain's Lord Home and France's Maurice Couve de Murville.

Authoritative sources said the planned session had to be called off because the French were unwilling to go to a meeting where the consequences of their veto of Britain's Common Market bid would be discussed.

A West German foreign ministry spokesman said he regretted cancellation of the foreign ministers' meeting of the Western European Union. Members are Britain, France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

The union was evolved as a means of rearming West Germany within the European community after the French Parliament rejected the proposed European Defense Community in 1954.

Dirksen Urges Pinpointing of Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen said today that future foreign aid programs must be made "pinpoint and show-case" efforts to justify their cost.

The Illinois Republican said in an interview that the long-awaited Clay report and others issued by congressional groups are all responsive to "a real uneasiness and unhappiness" among the country's taxpayers.

Dirksen referred specifically to recent reports by Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield and by a group of three other senators who Friday reported that the aid program in Asia can "stand considerable tightening up."

The GOP leader had not yet seen the report by a special committee under retired Gen. Lucius D. Clay, submitted to President Kennedy Friday and being made public tonight. The Clay report also is understood to recommend a tightening up of both military and economic assistance, but on a progressive basis.

The Senate group included Sens. Gale McGee, D-Wyo., Frank Church, D-Idaho, and Frank E. Moss, D-Utah. They recommended "substantive" personnel cuts in aid missions—but on a selective rather than an across-the-board basis. They said the problem is not one of "incompetent persons but rather a case of too many."

McGee and his colleagues recommended that priority assistance be given to Indonesia because of its potential future influence in Asia. And they urged that a "hard look" be given to the size of the U.S. military outlay in Taiwan (Formosa) and Korea "in relations to the results obtained."

Catholic Hospital Is Desegregated

ATLANTA (UPI) —Archbishop Paul J. Hallinan has ordered immediate desegregation of the two Roman Catholic hospitals in the 71-county Atlanta archdiocese.

Hallinan, in a statement dealing with a new policy for the hospitals, said assignment of hospital space will be made on the basis of medical and surgical needs, "not on the basis of race or color."

"There will be no separated sections for any racial group," he said.

The two hospitals in the diocese St. Joseph's at Atlanta and St. Mary's at Athens, Ga., have a capacity of 450 persons. Another Catholic hospital under construction here will have 150 beds.

A spokesman at St. Joseph's said that institution has been admitting Negro patients for "some time, without public announcement."

Hallinan noted that since Catholic schools in the diocese were integrated last September, "the question of the admission policy of our Catholic hospitals is the next logical step."
